Every girl in the bridal dress parade was beautiful. Some more beautiful than others. In our own mind's eye we know the one we thought the most beautiful, but have sense enough not to print it.

We asked a young gentleman if he attended the Tom Thumb Wedding Pageant given at the Methodist Church Tuesday evening. He said no, that he didn't like children and for that reason did not attend. This was a surprise to us who can see something interesting in all of them. Some are pretty, some are ugly, some are clean and well dressed, some are dirty and ragged, but in the eyes of every one is a sparkle for the man or woman who has a kind word for them, or maybe a nickel. The small child is the only human being absolutely fearless and who will honestly say yes or no. Be a friend to and encourage children. You'll never regret it.

It should be good news for protestantism throughout the land that Bishop Cannon is to be retired. He has been a load stone to all protestant denominations since the presidential campaign of 1928. To be sure he was acquitted of certain charges by a jury of twelve, but convicted of everything a preacher should not do by millions of American people.

What would you do if you were invited to talk before a congregation of church members and church going people and you were not a member of any church? Do you think it would be sacriligious, and do you think it would be the right thing to do? The editor of The Standard is on the spot and puzzled as what to do after being invited to fill a date as a layman

The Standard editor acknowledges a call from Judge I. R. Kelso Tuesday. He was down from Cape Girardeau on a business trip and was accompanied by Mrs. Kelso and their daughter.

Another good thing has come to pass. Tom Heflin ran third for Congress in Alabama in an attempt to come back politically. Now he and Bishop Cannon can form a partnership and rip Catholicism to a frazzle.

The Standard editor regrets his absence from the office Wednesday afternoon when Judge Harry S. Truman, presiding judge of the Jackson County Court called. Judge Truman made a talk in Railroad Park in favor of the ten million dollar bond issue to be voted May 15.

Charles Boardman, street commissioner drove the editor over the city Wednesday afternoon to look over the work done by his crew. Streets in Sunset Addition, Chamber of Commerce Addition and High School Addition are in splendid condition at this time. Other streets in the main sections of the city are pretty rough, but Mr. Boardman promises to have them in order shortly.

Street Commissioner Boardman expects to be ready the coming week to oil streets of those wanting to keep down dust. If you are unable to see Mr. Boardman leave word with A. C. Barrett, City Clerk.

W. M. S. TO MEET TODAY

Rev. J. E. Smith, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene at Cape Girardeau, will speak on "Missions" at a meeting of the W. M. S. of the Nazarene church here which wil begin at 1 1o'clock Friday morning at the church.

At noon sandwiches will be served, and from 1 until 2 o'clock Mrs. L. H. Rector, president of the club, will preside at a business session. Following this will be the afternoon program on misisons, led by Mrs. C. F. Transue, study superintendent.

Mesdames A. B. Gilliland, Chas. Trickey, Charles Bradbury, Frank Stotts and Miss Georgia Freeze, members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Charleston, will represent the organization at the annual meeting of the Presbyterial of Potosi Presbytery of the Southern Presbyterian Church, which will convene at the Presbyterian Church in Caruthersville, Tuesday, May 1.

Sikeston Alloted $510 For Relief This Month

Sikeston was apportioned $510 of the $4500 allotted to Scott County for May by the Missouri Relief and Reconstruction Commission in Jefferson City at a meeting of relief committeemen held in the Scott County court house at Benton at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening.

The appropriations for the separate towns and communities of the county, determined as they were last month, were made in the following manner: Each district received $2 for each family on the whole relief roll during April, to be used for work relief. Of the county appropriation, $1500 was for work relief and $3000 for direct relief.

Sikeston's total allotment was granted for the 85 families on the work and direct relief rolls, a number considerably smaller than formerly, since in March, John Young, relief chairman here, had 208 families on the CWA roll.

In addition to this money, Sikeston was given $50 of $250.45 left over from the April appropriation for work relief. Other towns shared this money, Chaffee getting $100, Illmo $50, Oran, $50.

This money had to be used during Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, since the four weeks beginning in April ended yesterday. Work cards were reissued Tuesday and work began immediately.

The work relief appropriation for Sikeston will be spent in completing the municipal airport. The direct relief money will be given to indigent families in the form of grocery orders for work on the city streets, the parks, the community garden, and any other jobs which the town can provide for them.

It is thought that work relief will be discontinued at the end of this new four weeks, on June 1. Direct relief will probably extend throughout the remainder of 1934. The jobs of all county employes who are executing clerical work pertaining to the relief setup, ended yesterday, since from Jefferson City came orders that all appointments will hereafter be made from the State relief offices. It is believed, however, that most, if not all of them, will be re-hired for the same jobs which they now hold.

It is also thought that with the ending of work relief and the continuation only of direct relief, numerous town and community chairmen will resign their positions, which have been held without pay, and some competent person, who is well-acquainted with the various aspects of relief work, will be hired to direct activities for the whole county.

There have been 695 persons on the county during April. These same men and women will now be put to work on new projects or on extensions of old ones. It is possible that some will spend their allotted weekly hours in improving county drainage ditches, since members of the county court stated they were interested in such work, particularly on ditches 10 (Northcut) and 1 (Little River). They agreed to pay a foreman for the job, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made for transportation of men to and from these ditches, as well as one near Vanduser, the plan may materialize.

The following members of the Scott County Committee, which directs all relief work, were present at Monday's meeting: Chairman, J. J. Miller, Illmo; John A. Young, Sikeston; Roy Green, Blodgett; T. A. Heisserer, Oran; Mayor L. J. Heyman, Chaffee. Others attending were Jack Dolan, Illmo and Alvin Papin, Chaffee, county supervisors for the new relief setup; Martha Harrison, employment certifying officer.

Dr. C. B. Thomas, Chaffee, and C. D. Matthews, Jr., Sikeston, also members of the county committee, were not present.

Extension of Air Meet Celebration Suggested

The airplane fleet of the Missouri National Guard may possibly accept an invitation to be here for maneuvers at the Sikeston municipal airport dedication July 3 and 4. The number of ships in this unit is not known but members of the city aviation board feel that its presence here would add immeasurably to the program planned for those days.

Believing that since Sikeston will have no fair this year and no other celebration of consequsnce, some townspeople think that the air meet should be converted into a four-day fair. To the various air contests, parachute leaps and exhibition flying in which visiting pilots will compete and to the boys' model airplane competition which will be held, these people would add carnival attractions, such as ferris wheels, shooting galleries, side shows, merry-go-rounds and airplane swings, numerous eating concessions, and a huge style show, similar to the one once held at a fair here, with many models, elaborate decorations, and an orchestra.

Final work necessary to complete the airport according to government regulations will begin immediately. Labor will be furnished by men on the work relief roll. There now remain only about ten acres in the northwest corner of the field which have not yet been cut to a 1 per cent grade.

Twenty drivers with teams and shovels and men operating one large tractor and grader began March 2 to level the 160 acres leased by the city from the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company for five years, with an option to re-lease or buy the ground later.

On March 19 bids for contracts for airport materials were opened in Jefferson City and the contracts awarded immediately. The following Sikeston firms were designated to supply the materials: Dye Filling Station, gasoline and oil; E. C. Robinson Lumber Company, paint; McCoy Seed Company, fence posts and hardware.

Working men a maximum number of allowed hours, first under the CWA, then under the work relief setup, J. W. Baker, Jr., supervisor of the project, had an average of 100 cubic yards of earth moved every day from the 160-acre tract. In accordance with government specifications, which required that the airport be made into at least a 2 per cent grade, he arranged to have 50,000 cubic yards of earth moved from the field.

Laid out in a triangular shape, the airport, when completed, will have two 500-foot runways on the eastern and western sides and a 100-foot circle within the triangle. Around the circle is a 4-foot walk, which will be kept white. The upper parts of fence posts surrounding the field and of the telephone poles at the south end have been painted orange. The telephone poles have been painted white on the lower half as well.

During April the ground was seeded with lespedeza and oats to keep it exactly its prescribed level. Soon blue grass seed will also be planted.

The small hangar formerly built on the ball park by Leonard McMullin was moved to the field and reconstructed by workmen, who also painted the upper half of it orange. Although Mr. McMullin gave the structure to the city, he will continue to use it for the airplane which he operates.

Members of the city aviation board are the following men: Chairman, Hubert Boyer, representing the City of Sikeston; secretary, J. E. Harper, representing the Chamber of Commece, treasurer, Clay Mitchell, representing the Henry Meldrum Post 114 of the American Legion; technician, Leonard McMullin, representing the Scott County Court.

Trousdale's One-Stop Station Opening Sat.

F. F. Trousdale, who, for many years, has operated a service station and a lunch room one block west of Frisco on Highway 60, has remodeled and papered and fully equipped his cafe, adding all modern applicances and installing individual booths for customers. This renovized cafe and beer parlor will be open Saturday.

To every guest at the Trousdale's One-Stop Station on this opening day will be given free, a glass of beer and a sandwich.

Mr. Trousdale will regularly serve beer, hot and cold lunches, ice cream, soft drinks, candies and cigars and cigarettes. He has ample parking space for customers, and will continue to run his service station, where people may get gasoline, oil, tires, tubes and accessories and may have their automobiles repaired and greased.

Average Sikestonian Spends $400 Per Year In Local Shops

Residents of Sikeston and vicinity spend approximately $400 per person in the retail stores and shops here each year, according to an estimate made by the Chicago Wholesale Market Council.

The State of Missouri's total retail trade of about one and a half billion dollars is equal to almost one half the volume of wholesale trade of Chicago, whose Wholesale Market District, lying just west of the famous "Loop", is considered one of the greatest in the world.

The study which revealed the figures was made by the newly formed Wholesale Council to determine how best to meet the needs of retail merchants who depend largely upon Chicago wholesalers for goods to stock their shelves for Missouri purchasers. An expansion and improvement program, including numerous additional buyers' services, has been launched to accommodate the throng of merchants who are expected to combine a visit to the Century of Progress with their annual or semi-annual buying trip.

The estimate is based on the total retail trade of the State and the population, both reported in the latest United States census.

The $40 per person, or about $1500 per family, spent with Missouri retailers includes all purchases, except for personal services, such as laundry and barbering.

The Chicago Wholesale Market Council includes in its membership many of the nations leading wholesalers and manufacturers of men's clothing, women's wear and general dry goods, some of which have been located in the Wholesale Market District since the Great Chicago Fire of 1871.

Peters-Vitality Win at Shoe Ball Games

by Leo Smith

The game scheduled for Friday was played off Tuesday afternoon.

The Peters defeated the Vitality team 4 to 0.

Cecil Smith pitching for Peters was very effective, letting Vitality down with only two hits, Herman Weeks getting both of them. Smith also struck out seven batters. Paul Crain pitching for Vitality, was also in form, letting Peters down with five hits and striking out thirteen batters.

His teammates made four errors behind him, this being mostly the cause of his defeat. The game was the best and fastest of the season and was played in one hour and fifteen minutes.

Leo Brown was the leading hitter for the winners, getting two hits out of three times at bat.

This game marked two straight wins for the Peters. The Friedman-Shelby vs. Peters play Friday.

The score:

Peters	4 5 2
Vitality	0 2 4

The Vitality team defeated the R. J. & R. team Monday by a score of 12 to 3.

The R. J. & R. team led 3 to 1 for four innings, when Vitality started a rally in the fifth inning to tie the score 3 all. In 6th inning they collected 9 runs together with 5 errors to win, 12 to 3.

A. Williams was the leading hitter for the winners, getting 3 hits in 5 times at bat. P. Joyce was the leading hitter for the losers, geting two hits. The winners collected 12 hits, 6 of them going for extra bases.

The score:

R. J. & R	3 6 7
Vitality	12 12 9

TWO HELD FOR SHOOTING

Two negroes were arrested in Mississippi County and put in the New Madrid County jail Tuesday by Sheriff Sam Harris, who said they admitted shooting October 28 into a negro house near New Madrid, where a dance was being held. Three negroes were wounded.

These men, Jim Johnson, 27 years old, and John Henry Reed, 30 years old, will be charged with firing at other persons with intent to kill. Johnson was found at Sledge and Reed at Como after Sheriff Harris received a tip that the suspects were in Mississippi County.

FOUR ATTEND SALES CONFERENCE IN CAPE

J. N. Hitchcock, Marion Cox, Walter Ancell and Dale Dye, all of Sikeston, attended a special sales conference for employes of the Phillips Petroleum Corporation in the St. Louis division which was held Monday at the Hotel Marquette in Cape Girardeau.

During the afternoon session talks were made by various division supervisors and sales managers. After a banquet the men were entertained with dance and vocal specialities and a girls' and men's trio. Kassel's Symphonic Girardeans furnished orchestra music.

About 150 men from Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, Kentucky, and Tennessee, attended the meeting.

Child Cut In Pieces by Frisco Freight Here Thursday Morning

Billy Monroe Demarris, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Estel Demarris, was almost instantly killed at about 10 o'clock Thursday morning when the 845 southbound Frisco freight train ran over him directly opposite the Sikeston Gin Company's offices.

The child's body was badly mutilated. His left leg was completely severed above the knee and the flesh was torn half way around the left side of his torso. His face was only slightly bruised.

The engineer, L. S. McConachie, of Chaffee, stated that he noticed some object in the tracks when he was still some distance away, but thought it was a piece of paper. When he came to a distance of about two and half car lengths from the scene of the accident, he discovered that the object was a child, no longer lying still, but moving. He applied his brakes immediately, but by the time he had halted the train, consisting of three cars and a caboose, the three cars had passed the child. He was going between fifteen and twenty miles an hour, he said, and was watching the crossing at North street, directly south, for automobiles.

McConachie and the fireman, G. W. Stone, also of Chaffee, got out and moved the child away from the tracks.

It is thought that Billy Monroe had crawled over into the tracks and had lain down in the triangular space between the extreme west rails, where one set turns off to lead into the yards of the Scott County Milling Company's Mill A. It is thought, as well, that the child may have gone to sleep [illegible] only when the train was very near. He then probably started to crawl over the west track, but was caught before he could reach safety.

Since the train's pilot rises about three inches above the rails, it is believed that the child had gotten enough of his body over it so that he was not struck, but that the first wheel severed his leg from his body and the flange of a wheel caught his body, tearing his flesh.

Mrs. Eula Demarris, mother of the child, had left her home on North Handy street and was looking for her son to take him to the house for his nap. Coming from the rear of her home, which faces without obstruction the railroad track lying to the east, she did not see her child. As she reached Mill street and passed from there to the grassy right-of-way between the street and the railroad tracks, she saw the train stop suddenly. But not until after the engineer and fireman had gotten out did she see the child, the severed leg still halfway on the rail, the body lying on the edge of the ties.

Demarris was called immediately and the child was taken by H. J. Welsh to his funeral home on Center Street. Thursday afternoon the body was returned to the family home. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made, pending the arrival of out-of-town relatives.

It is not yet known if an inquest will be held.

Two Bound Over To Circuit Court

John Hedge and Carl O'Neal, both of Advance, who were arrested near Tanner early Monday morning and charged with stealing chickens in the night-time, waived preliminary hearing Tuesday before Justice W. C. Welman in Benton and were bound over to the next term of the Scott County Circuit Court.

It is said that the two men, both about 25 years old, had in their possession some chickens when they were arrested. Nick Darter, Harrison Darter and Leslie Matlock, all of the Tanner-Salcedo community, previously reported losing approximately 100 chickens to thieves.

Sheriff Joe Anderson, who caught the men, stated that O'Neal was released only three months ago from the penitentiary, where he served a term after being sentenced on a similar charge.

Memphis C. of C. May Bring Air Fleet Here

An invitation has been extended to officials of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce to route their proposed good will airplane tour through Sikeston.

John Powell and Leon Gmeiner went to Memphis Sunday and talked to Capt. Vernon Omlie, who is arrangin the itinerray of the tour, which will probably be made late in August. Capt. Omlie spoke favorably about coming here, according to Mr. Powell, who also wrote a letter Tuesday to Cliff Penland, secretary of the aviation department of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

Men here feel that since Sikeston is the only city of size in the northern Memphis trade territory members of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce would greatly benefit by including this town in their tour. The general itinerary, as outlined at a meeting of the group's aviation division, embraces West Tennessee, North Mississippi, Eastern Arkansas and North Louisiana. The 105th Aero Squadron of the Tennessee National Guard will probably be invited to make the trip, which will last a week.

According to a spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce, "The Chamber is conducting a good will tour on behalf of the Cotton Carnival shortly, and the air tour is to carry out the same idea in connection with the fair. The most important purpose is for Memphis business men to make closer contacts with the people of our trade territory. We've got to keep on doing that all the time".

Four Are Candidates for Degrees at Mo. U.

Four young men from Sikeston are candidates for degrees at the graduation exercises at the University of Missouri in Columbia June 6.

Candidates for the degree of bachelor of arts are Alexander L. Russell and Arch Somerville Russell, sons of Mr and Mrs. Arch S. Russell, Sr.; for the degree of bachelor of science in business administration, Glenn Woods Bayer, son of G. H. Bayer; and for the degree of bachelor of laws, Robt. A. Dempster, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dempster.

Other candidates from Southeast Missouri are James Otto Lottes and John Watkins Oliver, bachelor of arts, and Paul Hartel Hackman, bachelor of science in education, all of Cape Girardeau; Elmer C. Axline, bachelor of science in engineering, Illmo; Kelley Elza Jackson, bachelor of science in public administration, East Prairie and Lewis Danforth Joslyn, Charleston, and Carl E. Williamson, Doniphan, both candidates for bachelor of arts and bachelor of laws degree.

A total of 616 students of the university will be candidates for degrees at the commencement this year. More than three-fourths of the counties in Missouri, two-thirds of the States in the country, and several foreign counties will be represented in the graduating class.

Casper S. Yost, St. Louis, editor of the editorial page of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, will deliver the commencement address.

The baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 3, will be given this year by the Rev. Father Robt. S. Johnston, president of St. Louis University. Class day will be June 4, and alumni day, June 5.

PYMOUTHS' ENDURANCE SHOWN AT FREE MOVIE

A free program consisting of four short talking pictures was presented by J. L. Priester at the Sikeston Motor Company on Front Street at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. About 500 persons attended.

The first movie, Mickey Mouse in "Western Whoopee", was followed by a reel which showed Billy Arnold and Barney Oldfield skijumping in a Plymouth and abusing the car, turning it over three times but each time righting it with its own power. This piece, entitled "Hell Drivers", also showed Arnold's Indianapolis crash.

The third picture, in addition to giving views of the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, presented scenes of the two "hell drivers" again testing Plymouths to show the extent of the automobile's endurance and the fitness and superiority of its construction. The last movie, "Three a Minute", was taken in the Dodge factory and explained how, thru the developments of modern industry, three automobiles may be well-assembled in sixty seconds.

O. F. Sikes and Judson Boardman are salesmen for the Sikeston Motor Company, and Art Clark is in charge of the repair department.

DAY NURSERY SCHOOL STARTED WEDNESDAY

The third term of Mrs. T. A. Martin's sunshine nursery school and kindergarten began at her home at 211 Dorothy Street, Wednesday morning.

A two-hour period, from 9:30 until 11:30 o'clock in the morning, is held for a month in the spring and fall, and children from the ages of 2 to 6 who are enrolled are directed in both indoor and outdoor activity.

Soon after they arrive a mid-morning luncheon of juice and crackers is served to them. Following this they do rhythm work with drums, tambourines and bells and indoor craft work with scissors and paste.

Their activity also includes outdoor singing games, nature study, and play on swings, slides and jungle gyms. In addition to this, they are told stories.

About twelve children have already been enrolled.

The Angel of Death Visited—

Funeral services for James L. Love, 80 years old, who died at his farm residence north and east of Miner Switch Tuesday afternoon, were held at the Richwood Methodist church at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with the Rev. M. Wilson, pastor of the Dexter Baptist church, officiating. Burial was in the Morley cemetery.

Mr. Love had been in poor health since last October, when he fell from the porch of his home. Later he sustained a broken hip from a second fall, from which he never recovered.

He was born October 30, 1853, and on September 28, 1876, married Mary Lydia Minner, who survives him. A member of the Methodist Episcopal Church from early manhood, he always attended services in the communities in which he lived.

Besides his wife, he is survived by five children, Mrs. Beulah McMaster, Rosiceane, Ill.; William Lacy Love, Sikeston; Mrs. Ethel Crook, Henning, Tenn.; Mrs. Mable Stanley, Morehouse; Mrs. Addie Love, Sikeston; two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Threlkeld, Carrsville, Ky., and Mrs. Lake Murphy, Providence, Ky.; twenty-seven grandchildren and twenty-five great-grandchildren. Two children, Roy and Marie, and six grandchildren are dead. Welsh service.

Joseph Juvenal, 85 years old, collapsed and died of a heart attack at a hotel in Monett Monday, two hours after he had finished a weight-lifting exhibition before Monett high school students to illustrate that a physically fit man should neither drink nor smoke.

Students remarked that he clutched at his chest after he had lifted a weight marked 200 pounds, stating that "nobody who smokes cigaretes can do it". One student also sustained a slight cut as he held a potato in the palm of his hand for the performer to slice with a sword to demonstrate his steady nerves.

Under the name of Tommy Ryan, Juvenal had been giving similar performances for more than ten years. He appeared at the Sikeston high school in March.

SENIORS HONORED AT TEA

The high school seniors were honored Tuesday afternoon with a tea given by students of the home economics department. Faculty members were also present as guests.

A program given by pupils of the grammar and high school included a song, "Mighty Lak' a Rose", sung by the Girls' Glee Club, "Around a Gypsy Fire", by a sextet composed of Gwendolyn Duncan, Ellen Davey, Ruth Bloomfield, Lavern Canoy, Louis Ellen Tanner and Mary Emma Powell; and songs, dances and recitations by twenty students of Miss Jewell Mouser.

Decorations were in pink and white, with pink tulips and spirea, and pink candles in candelabra.

Home economics students entertained members of the board of education at a dinner at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

FEARS DAMAGE FROM SCARCITY OF RAINFAL

The weather was too cool during the first four days of the week ending Tuesday for good growth, according to Roscoe Nunn, meteorologist of the department of agriculture with offices in St. Louis.

Some slight frost damage occurred, but considering the shortage of moisture, the subnormal temperatures were rather desirable. Very helpful rain fell all over the State on April 26, but it was heaviest in the southeastern counties. Sikeston had two inches.

The situation with regard to moisture is serious, Mr. Nunn says. For the last six months the precipitation has been deficient each month for the State as a whole, the total amount averaging about two-thirds of normal. Streams are very low, and wells and springs in several districts are dry, some, it is said, for the first time in many years.

While, up to now, occasional rains and snows have been sufficient for the immediate needs of surface vegetation, the fact that there is very little reserve moisture in the subsoil causes uneasines for the future. A spell of rainless weather lasting even ten days, under the present state of depleted subsoil moisture, would hurt crops severely in most part of the State, he said.

Wheat is in fairly good condition in general. Its progress this week was poor to fair, and some deterioration occurred in very dry localities. Oats made onl yfair progress; some local damage from aphis is reported. Alfalfa, pastures, potatoes, and gardens made slow growth. Fruits prospects are said to be good, except that peaches are scarce. The present outlook for berries is good.

FAIR TO OPEN AUGUST 11

The thirty-fourth annual Missouri State Fair will be held from August 11 to 18, inclusive, according to Charles W. Green, secretary of the fair committee. By opening on this date, Missouri will again be the first of the nation's States to begin the State fair and exposition season.

Reserve seat tickets for May 15 being sold by the seniors.

The concrete slab on Tanner Street has been poured and the placing of curb and gutter under way. This will be a convenient street to the citizens of the city who visit the High School and the activities at that place. It will connect two paved highways for cross-town traffic. There has been a lot of criticism made by some people of the selection of this street for paving by the Government without direct cost to the property owners along that street. Just who is criticised and why anyone was criticised we haven't heard. The facts in the case are these: Four hundred million dollars was appropriated by Congress for road work in the different States to help the unemployment situation. Twelve million of the fund was given to the State of Missouri to be divided as follows: Fifty per cent on the main trunk highways, 25 per cent for farm-to-market roads, 25 per cent for connections in and through cities under 75 thousand population. About $22,000 was set aside for Sikeston. The instructions were sent out that required a direct connection from a farm-to-market road entering the city with a main highway. The only farm-to-market road entering Sikeston from any direction was the spur north of the city. That being the case, Tanner Street was the only direct connection that met the requirements and was the most traveled street in the city not already paved on account of the traffic to and from the High School. Mr. Towse, engineer of Division 10 in this city, was called on for his recommendation. He recommended, if it could be done, the north spur already under contract as a farm-to-market project, the placing of a private sewer from the corner at the Robinson Lumber Co. to the ditch east of the city and the paving of Tanner Street. These were his recommendations in order as made. As the north spur was already under contract, this project was eliminated. Mr. O'Brien, a government engineer was ordered by the road department in Washington, to proceed from Omaha, Nebraska, to Sikeston, to look over the different projects and make his recommendation. This he did and after going over every section of the city, he finally recommended the paving of Tanner Street. There was no undue influence used by anyone that we have heard of to have this street paved and just why any individual should feel aggrieved at the selection of this street project is hard to understand. It is unchristian to say the least.

The Woman's Club met Friday at the home of Otto Blatz. The book discussed was "Grand Hotel". The girls seemed to get away from the bedroom sequence wherein Flamm finds the Count is dead.

Hez Willert finds the sale of field glasses very poor since the authorities disbanded the local nudist colony.

The head keeper at the insane asylum has more trials and tribulations. Only last week two squirrels jumped inside the walls. The nearest thing to a riot he has had in years.

Mrs. Van Itty will lend her uncensored copy of "Decameron Tales" to the Woman's Club for discussion next week. A long and enjoyable meeting is expected.

The kibitzers about the Town are having a hard time since the boys at the barber shop have started playing chess. None of the kibitzers understand the game well enough to butt in.

A young couple in the Town are trying very hard to get the Rev. Divinny ordained . . . as he married them about a year ago . . . and the law mentions something on that line . . and they didn't find out about it until recently . . if the Rev. keeps on with such work the Town Board will start planting palm trees, raising cocoanut, etc., to give it more of that South Sea atmosphere.

"MORMON" CRICKETS AGAIN THREATEN CROPS IN IDAHO

Boise, Idaho, April 30.—The devastating "Mormon" crickets, which in 1848 threatened first colonists in Utah with starvation, have appeared in several spots in Southern Idaho to carry on the destruction they started last year.

Black creatures two inches long when full grown, they eat everything in sight, including their own young or injured. When banded together they have mastered almost every device set up against them except tin fences and poison dust. Packed in almost solid phalanxes, they move toward cultivated fields and their eating sounds like wind blowing constantly among the leaves.

Desperate Mormon settlers, from whose experience with them the insects get their name, tried every device available but lacked poison or tin in sufficient quantities. The Latter Day Saint's history credits sea gulls from islands in the Great Salt Lake with saving them from starvation. The sea gulls swarmed in by thousands, gorged on the crickets and carried them to water courses or to the salty lake, and there disgorged them. A monument near the Salt Lake Temple now commemorates the event.

The big dramatic production of the year, May 15, Senior play.

SLIMMING DIET

Here is another of the weight reducing menus prepared for this paper by Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, Commissioner of Health of New York City.

Adjust the diet to your needs by taking smaller or larger portions of the food indicated in plain type. Do not change the quantities of the foods in bold face type. These are the protective foods, and must be taken as indicated.

BREAKFAST

	Calories
Tomato juice	100
1 soft boiled egg	75
1 slice whole wheat bread	50
1 small pat of butter	35
Coffee (milk instead of cream, no sugar)	25

LUNCH

Average helping broiled sweetbreads on toast	185
Salad (1/2 small grapefruit sliced, 1 tbsp. French dressing, watercress)	80
1/4 cup vanilla ice cream	100

DINNER

Shrimp cocktail with lettuce, tomato sauce (1/4 cup shrimps)	100
Roast chicken (2 slices of the breast, or 1/2 of the meat of the thigh)	200
1/2 cup spinach	25
1 glass of milk	150
1/2 cup fresh berries (or other fruit in season) with 1/4 glass of milk	50

Don't try to reduce too fast. A quarter of a pound a day is enough.

WOMAN'S CUB TO MEET AT MRS. A. W. SWACKER'S

Members of the Sikeston Woman's Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. W. Swacker for a mothers' tea. Mrs. J. M. Massengill is in charge of the program which will include numbers in honor and praise of mothers. The club had originally intended to meet at the home of Mrs. Jennie Sikes.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

STRAWBERRIES are so plentiful that they are being sold at little greater cost than in the height of their summer season. Enjoy this winter treat while it lasts.

California navel oranges are at the height of their short season and they are particularly delicious to eat out of hand or in salads or desserts. For breakfast juice, Florida oranges are fine. Grapefruit continue plentiful.

Spinach and green beans are abundant and cheap. Broccoli though fine and inexpensive is not being used so much as it was. Cauliflower and new cabbage are cheap. Peas continue plentiful and good. Beets and carrots are particularly economical.

With Lent in the near future, favorite meat dishes should be enjoyed now though well cooked and seasoned fish is equally good.

The Quaker Maid suggests the following menus for your Sunday dinner.

Low Cost Dinner

Pan-browned Chopped Beef
Mashed Potatoes
Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Vanilla Junket with Preserves
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Chicken Pie with Biscuit Crust
Baked Sweet Potatoes or Yams
Buttered Broccoli
Hot Biscuits Butter
Strawberry Whip with Crushed Strawberries
Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Tomato Juice Cocktail
Baked Smoked Ham or Roast Chicken
Mashed Potatoes Buttered Broccoli
Grapefruit and Orange Salad
Rolls and Butter
Fresh Strawberry Ice Cream
Coffee Milk

CHAPTER III

FOREWORD

Mary, the American bride of brilliant young Lord Rexford is happy in her new home and she and her husband love each other devotedly, although at times he warns her that her new English relatives and friends may not understand her humorous remarks. They are both overjoyed when a daughter, Pamela, is born to them.

On their fifth wedding anniversary, Mary told herself that their marriage had been a success. That she and Philip still loved each other deeply there was no question. Pamela was a charming child and they both idolized her. Lord Rexford was growing in importance and fame and she was proud of him. But—it was silly perhaps, to dwell on such a thing — there were times when she almost resented his absorption in his work. It was not that she was a neglected wife, but she loved him so much she would have liked to share in everything which concerned him. He was inclined, she felt, to consider her only as a beloved wife, a devoted mother, a charming hostess.

"This is ridiculous" she said to herself. "I suppose every woman who knows me, envies me my happy lot."

It was a few days later that Philip told her he must go to America on an important commission. She took it for granted that she was to go with him. She had not been to America since her marriage — it was still in a way "home" to her —and she loved to travel. It seemed it had never occurred to her husband to take her, or that she would expect to go. When she told him she wanted to go, there were good reasons he pointed out, for his objections. It was to a hurried trip, going from place to place; it would be foolish to take Pamela and she should not be left with servants and nurses; it would be too tiring for Mary. She was hurt as well as disappointed, but she did not press the matter.

The whole story of their life might have been different if Lady Hetty Riversleigh had not arrived in London the day before Lord Rexford was to sail for America. She was his aunt and what is known as a "character." Her social position was secure because of her birth and breeding, and she was very rich, but her greatest delight was to shock everyone by her unconventional conduct and outspoken remarks. She lived on the Riviera because as she told everyone (especially English people) she loathed England and found English people stuffy and stupid. Secretly she may have been proud of Philip but when he was mentioned she called him an unsufferable prig or something like that. One hour after they arrived in London, she informed her secretary that she couldn't stand it — they would return the next day to Cannes.

"I haven't been here for seven years and I was a fool to come at all. I'm not going to see any of the family — if they want to see me, they can come to a decent place to see me. Except Philip—and I don't care about him but I hear this American wife of his has some ginger to her — though she can't be very amusing or she'd never have married such a bore as he is. Still I like Americans — they always give me a laugh or two."

In vain did the secretary remind her that she had ordered him to close the Villa. They would go to the Carlton then. She was in high humor and the secretary was in despair as they set out for the Rexford mansion in Grosvenor Square.

Mary's greeting delighted her.

"Aunt Hetty! she exclaimed. "At last! I've waited five years to see what I'm like."

"What is she talking about" Lady Hetty asked Philip. "I knew I'd laugh. This is delightful."

"Well," Mary explained, "Philip's relatives always say: 'How you remind me of Aunt Hetty' — and between you and me it doesn't always sound like a compliment."

Lady Hetty roared with laughter.

"How do you stand it here, Mary? I go to pieces in London."

"One can get a little stuffy here" conceded Mary.

Philip who had been talking with David Fenwick, his secretary had not heard this conversation. He looked at his watch anxiously and said he must leave in a few minutes as he had little time to catch the boat train.

"I'm sorry to lose you just as I've found you" said Lady Hetty to Mary.

"Oh, I'm not going" said Mary. "I'm not to go to the boat even to see him off. Would you believe that once he got off a boat just as it was sailing because he simply couldn't sail without me—and now he won't even take me on a boat with him?"

"This is strictly a business trip" said Philip.

"I know that" said Mary. "But make me a part of the business. I've not forgotten my stenography and you're always overworking Fenwick."

"All of which means just what?" asked Lord Rexford.

"That joke didn't go very well, did it?" Mary said in a strange voice to Lady Hetty.

"Was it a joke" the older woman said gently. "I thought you were very serious."

"I was" said Mary half under her breath.

Philip was ready to leave. Mary followed him to the hall for a farewell alone. They held each other in a long embrace, he murmured over and over that he loved her, that he would be home soon, that he would telephone her often. Then he was gone and Mary went back to Aunt Hetty. She rang for a servant.

"Turn on all the lights — build up the fire — it is chilly here. And how about some champagne, Aunt Hetty?"

"Never was a better suggestion" answered the older woman. Then when the servant had left, she gave Mary a long, knowing look. All Mary's reserve went down before it.

"I love him" she said. "And he was very much in love with me."

"And still is?"

"Sometimes I wonder. Oh I've nothing to complain of. I'm not the neglected wife. I know there is no other woman in the world as far as Philip goes. It's just that I don't seem to amuse him any more — he's like the conductor of an orchestra in a theatre, who doesn't laugh at the poor comedian's jokes any more. I say something I think is funny and he doesn't laugh and I get all muddled up. Then I want to cry more than I want to laugh. I've developed an unconscious fear of displeasing him."

"Hurrah for you for admitting it" said Lady Hetty. "Because I see a great light. I'm taking you off to Cannes with me."

"But—"

"Silence," roared Lady Hetty "You are one of us gay ones of the earth — at least you were. If you go on this way, you won't be gay or anything else — you'll just go to seed. It's the best thing that could have happened, Philip's going away like this." She went over to the bell rope and when the servant answered, ordered him to send Lady Mary's maid at once.

"Tell her what you want packed" she said. "I won't take any 'no' from you. I'll put off going until tomorrow but no longer. That will give you time to give orders about the house and Pamela — and not enough to think up any objections to going. We're off to the sunny Riviera. And you're going to have the time of your life."

She did not know she was telling the truth — but that the time was to be of a kind she would never have imagined in her wildest dreams.

APOLLO GROUP GIVES DISTINCTIVE PROGRAM

The co-operation of the small children, young women, soloists, and the organist and of members of the ways and means committee of the Apollo group who sponsored, planned and worked, produced a beautiful and dignified performance which was given Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church, here.

The program consisted of a Tom Thumb Wedding and a Pageant of Brides, both executed with professional skill. The church itself was appropriately decorated. On the backs of pews bordering the two main aisles were hung white ribbons which held sprays of spirea, and on the aisles and the improvised platform in the front of the church was laid white cloth.

The platform was banked with vases of spirea, and at the back was a white lattice on which were woven more sprays of spirea. White candles in candelabra stood on either side in the rear.

Following a slight temperamental outburst, the leading lady of the Tom Thumb wedding refused to appear and had to be replaced by Little Betty Schivel. The standard bearers, bridesmaids, groomsmen and the principals, the best man and maid of honor, the flower girl, the ring bearer, the minister, and the bridegroom, all splendidly acted their parts thruout the procession and the ceremony

Before the wedding, Mrs. Ralph Anderson, organist, played the "Gavotte" from Mignon and Billy Anderson sang the "Wedding of the Painted Doll".

Following this part of the program, the pageant of brides was given while J. N. Ross announced each performer and told of each dress worn. A detailed outline of this pageant is given below.

The program was arranged by Ways and Means Committee of the Apollo Group: Mesdames C. D. Matthews, Jr., chairman, Tom Allen, Ralph Anderson, C. D. Matthews, III, H. E. Reuber and Miss Madge Davis.

SLAIN DURING ARGUMENT

Epps Payne, a negro, was placed in the Charleston jail after he had shot and killed John F. Forlks, another negro, on the Frank plantation in the Dorena community south of Charleston Thursday. Officers who arrested him said that the slaying followed an argument over a woman.

The Russell-Bradley Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet Tuesday night with Miss Lena Matthews. Mrs. Tanner Dye and Mrs. Wilbur Ensor, hostesses.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR HANNIBAL CHILD HELD MONDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, 2 o'clock, at the Hannibal Assembly of God Church for Bobby Jeane, 6½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hartle of that city, who died Saturday night at 8 o'clock of complication of diseases, the pastor of the church conducting the services. Burial was in the Hannibal Cemetery.

Little Bobby Jean had been ill for the past three weeks, first having whooping cough, then the measles and finally developing pneumonia. Besides his parents, he is survived by one sister, Wanda Lee, eighteen months old, who is now suffering from the same diseases which have developed into double pneumonia, and whose condition is reported to be critical

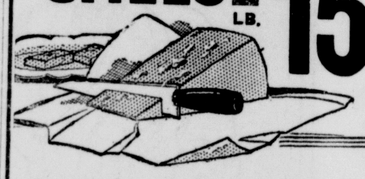

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rayburn and children and the former's brother, Lloyd, of this city, both Mr Rayburns being brothers of Mrs. Hartle, attended the funeral services.

PLAY TICKETS ON SALE

Tickets for the senior play, Myron C. Fagan's "Nancy's Private Affair", which will be given at the high school auditorium May 15, went on sale Wednesday. The admission price, which is 40 cents, will defray the expense of renting caps and gowns for graduation exercises May 21.

We wonder where Deacon Will Hayes was when the George White Scandal film was presented for his o. k. The "Nasty Man" song was nasty all right, and the scene of the man hunting for the mail order catalog in the night was worse. There were a lot of bully looking nearly naked females slithering and twisting around, that were entertaining, and Cliff Edwards' Henry VIIIth was o. k. The Dog Song could have been placed on the retired list as no one ever saw that many dogs together without fighting or something.

Ernest Springs is home from a business trpi through Northeast Missouri and Illinois. He said when he registered at Troy, Mo., from Sikeston, he was reminded he was from Roy V. Ellise's town, and at Paris, Mo., he was from the Blantons' town. We are glad he heard no bad reports about us.

DESPONDENT, KILLS SELF

Because he was despondent and in ill health, H. L. Ramsey, 47 years old, shot himself to death at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at his home one mile east of East Prairie.

Walking about 100 yards from his house into a pasture, he sent a bullet through the top of his head. Coroner Paul Hackney, who was at his bedside before he died, found a note, explaining the action, left by Ramsey.

Surviving him are a wife and an 8-year-old son, both of whom were in the house at the time of the shooting. At one time Ramsey was night marshal of East Prairie for four years.

PUPILS ENTERTAIN PARENTS WITH PROGRAM

The third grade pupils, of which Miss Jewell Mouser is teacher, entertained their parents and friends Wednesday afternoon with a musical program at the grade school.

Following was the program:

Dance, "Land of the Wooden Shoes"—Entire group

Song—"The Daisy" —Entire group, led by Don Phillips

Recitation, "Trees" by Kilmer—Alice Van Horne

Songs—"The Big Round World" and "Sleepy Tulips"—Joy May Edwards, Mary Lewis and Phyllis Harrison.

Clack Dance—Entire group

Recitation—"My Bicycle"—Ed Dan Renner

Musical number, "The Little Fiddle', entire room, led by Billy Anderson

Song, "The Swing"—Evelyn Klein and Don Phillips

Group number, "Old Spinning Wheel", led by Patsy Ruth Gentle and Tommy Roberts

Song, "Holland Maids" by girls

Song, "Tick Tock Clock"—Carolyn Weltecke, Mary Lewis and Alice Van Horne

Group number by boys, "Soldier Boys", led by Joe Dye

Recitation, "Grown Up Land"—Elizabeth Ann Baker

Group number, "School Days", led by Sue Tanner, Mary Jane Cummins, Billy Anderson and Tommy Roberts

Song, "Under the Old Apple Tree"—Entire group

May Day Roundelay—song and dance by entire group

Accompanists were Evelyn Klein and Carolyn Weltecke.

All the numbers showed there had been untiring work done by the teacher and pupils and was much enjoyed by all present.

BEAUTY CONTEST TO BE HELD AT THE MALONE

A beauty contest in which a young woman will be chosen to represent Sikeston at the Ozarks Mardi Gras in Poplar Bluff May 26, will be held at the Malone Theatre, probably on May 15. It will be staged between the first and second showing of a regular moving, and a decision will be made immediately.

Entrants, who will appear first in evening dress and then in bathing suits, will be judged by three disinterested out-of-town men to be named later. The winner will be picked on the basis of beauty alone.

To help promote this competition, John Powell, general chairman for Sikeston's activity in the Ozark festival, has asked the merchants to sponsor, without any cost to themselves, some young woman. They will not even be expected to furnish any wearing apparel unless they so desire, but they are urged to select a girl immediately and to notify Leon Gmeiner, who is in charge of arrangements, of their choice.

At Poplar Bluff, the winner of Sikeston's contest will compete with other entrnats from this district for the title of Miss Southeast Missouri. Miss Poplar Bluff will not enter the competition, but will act as hostess at the crowning, which will take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of May 26.

The prize for the successful candidate will be a week's trip to the World's Fair in Chicago with all expenses paid and a chance to compete in an annual nation-wide contest at Atlantic City, N. J., in September, when Miss America will be named.

Jungle Cats New Fair Thrill

Greatest animal act in history free to visitors to Chicago's new World's Fair which opens May 26. The great cat balances on the huge ball under the watchful eye of trainer Allen King, as part of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana exhibit this summer, featuring thirty-three lions, tigers and pumas in a single act. This is only one of 84 miles of free exhibits. Other features will be fifteen reproductions of actual foreign villages giving Exposition-goers a world tour right on the Fair grounds. New low rail and bus rates to the Fair have been announced. There is ample parking space for auto tourists.

NEW UTILITIES HEAD APPOINTED FOR S. E. MO.

Harry B. Newman, manager of the Missouri Utilities Company offices in Cape Girardeau, has been named manager of the concern's entire holdings in Southeast Missouri.

T. A. Martin, who for numerous years has been manager of the Sikeston district, will officially become an engineering assistant to Mr. Newman, but his work will be the same as that which he has done previously.

Under a new operating plan, decentralization of the St. Louis office will be made and company managers will have more responsibility.

In the position of district manager, Mr. Newman will have complete supervision over the company operations in twenty-nine Southeast Missouri towns served by the Missouri Utilities organization.

DRIVE STARTS FOR SUNDAY BALL CLUB

A drive to raise $500 for suits and equipment for a Sunday baseball team was started Thursday morning by men chosen to direct the campaign at a meeting of baseball fans held at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the offices of the Southeastern Missouri Telephone Company here.

It is hoped that some national concerns will contribute as well as town merchants. The names of those who give substantial donations may possibly be put on the backs of the suits.

N. E. Fuchs was elected president of a Sikeston baseball club for Sunday at this meeting. The following men were also elected: Vice-president, Ted Kirby; secretary-treasurer, E. F. Schorle; directors, Leon Gmeiner, Charles French and M. M. Beck. Three men, M. M. Beck, Milburn Arbaugh and Leon Gmeiner, were also chosen as members of a finance committee, to serve with the officers.

Men present at Wednesday's meeting spoke favorably of joining a Southeast Missouri baseball league if it is formed, and officers and fans met Thursday night with representatives of other towns to discuss the possibility of organizing such a league.

It is hoped that Sikeston will be able to have a superior team which will draw large crowds to the games. The baseball park will retain 10 per cent of all gate receipts for use in keeping the grounds in good condition.

BODY OF FARMER FOUND

The body of Millard Roark, 55-year-old farmer, who lived two and a half miles east of Malden, was found near his automobile parked on a road just north of Malden at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

It is thought Roark died at about 8:30 the night before after a heart attack. Apparently his car stalled in deep sand on a country road, which leads to his farm home and as he attempted to crank the motor he suffered a stroke.

SIMPSON OIL COMPANY CAPE TEAM ON SUNDAY

The Simpson Oil Company baseball team, which is a member of the Sikeston Municipal League, will meet the 75 Million Club of Cape Girardeau for a game here at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Admission will be 25 cents.

The team, managed by E. A. Bandy, is composed of the following players: Edgar Byrd, Venson Jones, Jack Lancaster, Raymond Bandy, J. W. Law, Paul Engram, Glen Schaefer, Charles Eaker, Harry Stacy, Bryant Briggs and J. W. Cox.

The Apollo Group will hold a business meeting this afternoon Friday) at the home of Mrs. H. C. Blanton. At this time plans will be finished for the convention of the Ninth District Federation of Music Clubs to be held here Saturday in the Methodist church. The public is invited to attend the afternoon meeting.

Billy Comer, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Comer, who has been ill for two weeks with bright's disease, is slowly regaining his health.

LAIR STORE NEWS

"That Interesting Store"

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Our 36th Year in Southeast Missouri

"Sensational Plans for Selling"

"High Pressure Salesmanship"

"New Plans for the New Deal"

All the above and a lot of other propaganda is being offered retailers at "so much per", the idea being to pass the cost on to Mr. and Mrs. Consumer. By sifting the whole "mess" down, merchants will find no new discovery that can take the place of common honesty, horse sense, energy and courtesy in running a store. We shall therefore stick to fundamentals, taking on only such frills as are entertaining but harmless to our customers and their pocketbooks.

Car Load Purchase

A full car load of Moore's stoves will be unloaded within a day or two. Moore's name on a range is a guarantee of high quality at reasonable cost and we make that pledge good. Good cooks will like these new models because they are distinctly different in appearance—in fact, the best and prettiest for the money we have ever assembled. Time payments are available for all who have reasonable income.

$9.50 Per Set

Have you a small bedroom that needs new floor covering? If so, we suggest a set of imported chenilled rag rugs consisting of one 4-6x7-6 and two small ones of same pattern—all for $9.50. We will not have more of this bargain so please come at once.

Farm Women Like Good Ones

High grade Monarch ranges with high closets and reservoirs, particularly suitable for farm use, may be bought and settled for after wheat or melon crops are sold. No higher quality ranges are made by any firm.

Thanks to Sikeston Territory

April sales broke our record for any one month since we have been in Sikeston and we are of course grateful for the business. Our sales people had a good part in the result—all of them hustling every minute. Dependable merchandise suited to this section—all bearing our 100% guarantee also helped. If there is one dissatisfied customer, we do not know about it and if any just complaint turns up later, we are here to make good.

House Cleaners Take Notice

Our store arrangement has been changed around to accommodate ladies who are shopping for spring goods. Florence ranges, porch gliders, refrigerators, both ice and Frigidaires, floor coverings and other seasonable goods are easily examined and all priced in plain figures for installment sales. If all cash is paid, we give reasonable discounts.

Frigidaires Going Strong

In case some reader may be curious to know about Frigidaire sales in Sikeston, we are pleased to report that April sales were 450% ahead of April sales last year on another brand of electric refrigerators. This means a good deal more than good salesmanship. It signifies the unquestioned leadership of the Frigidaire line for 1934. There is a model for every purse—and a good one.

What Is "Borax" Furniture Store?

That question has been asked several times lately and while we have a pretty good idea as to just what the term "Borax" means, we are going to look it up carefully and may at some future time give our patrons a proper definition of it, relating to the furniture trade.

Isn't It SWELL To Be Thirsty?

GET good and dry and thirsty—and then take a long, big gulp of Hyde Park Beer. Let it slide down easy—enjoy its fine old flavor as it goes—enjoy the feeling of solid satisfaction it gives you 'way down deep.

THE CAMIRROR

BASEBALL'S OPENING!—Managers Bill Terry of the Giants and Jimmy Wilson of the Phillies snapped before the first game at the Polo Grounds, New York.

MICKEY MOUSE and his frolicking pals, Minnie, Horace Horsecollar, the three Little Pigs, have new jobs. The screen's most popular actors, as cut-out toys imprinted right on packages of Post Toasties are now greeting millions of youngsters at breakfast and play time.

MORE TAXES!—Three and a half BILLION $ bills make a trail of gasoline taxes rising from $1,000,000 in 1919 to $700,000,000 in 1933. Originally 1c a gallon, you now pay taxes as high as 11c, or more than the price of the fuel itself!

NEWEST IN SPRING Neckwear—One of our movie favorites wears this new tie-around-scarf blouse that brings the neckline up around the chin.

VESSEL AND CAPTAIN BRING INSULL!—The American export liner "Exiloria" and Capt. Wenzel Nabel, in command, expected to land Insull at Boston about May 15th.

A PRINCE TAKES A NIP! — Prince George of England, the king's fourth son, is seen tasting a fine old Madeira, possibly a Duke of Clarence Malmsey. The picture was made on a recent visit of the prince to the island of Madeira where he was the guest of the Madeira Wine Association, of which T. L. W. Mullins (on the right) is managing director.

LOCAL GOLFERS BEAT CHARLESTON 50 TO 2

Sikeston golfers treated their Charleston guests rather roughly in their match tournament held on the local club grounds Sunday afternoon. The final score was 50 to 2. Eighteen players were matched from each of the clubs, and only two points were lost by the Sikeston sharp shooters during the afternoon. Each of the eighteen Sikeston golfers won his match. The scores were as follows:

Sikeston
O. Lumsden	69
S. Lee	69
H. Alexander	73
Pete Medley	78
L. Bowman	75
G. W. Kirk	79

Lumsden and Lee, Sikeston's junior golf flashes, played the local course in one stroke over par, which is unusually good golf for this early in the season.

Poplar Bluff calls at the local grounds this next Sunday for the second match of the Sikeston club's season. This will be a close match as Poplar Bluff has a strong club. Sikeston and the Bluff tied at the end of the season last year, but Sikeston won in the play off match, thereby gaining the championship of the league. The Bluff lost a close match to Dexter, April 22, by just one point, which is very much in the local club's favor—and quite a handicap for the Bluff golfers to overcome.

Charleston has now defeated Kennett; Dexter, Poplar Bluff; Sikeston, Charleston; and Poplar Bluff, Kennett. The standing of the Southeast Missouri league clubs is as follows:

	Won	Lost
Sikeston	1	0
Dexter	1	0
Charleston	1	1
Poplar Bluff	1	1
Kennett	0	2

COUNTY AND STATE FARM PRICES

Farm prices in Scott County comparing April, 1934 with April, 1933 as reported by buyers and dealers to the Missouri section of the U S. Division of Crop & Livestock Estimates shows corn at 43 cents per bushel against 30 cents in April, 1933. Wheat 76 cents compared with 53. Oats 45 against 21 cents for April, 1933. The price of eggs for this April was 11 cents against 9 cents per dozen, middle of April, 1933. Butterfat was 17 cents per pound compared with an average of 15 in April last year.

G. Manning Short, a farmer who lives near Jackson, possesses a strange stone watering trough, which he found on a farm near Allenville and moved to his own place only with great difficulty.

Chiselled from sandstone, it is eight feet long, approximately thirty inches deep, and of a corresponding width. It weighs several thousand pounds and bears on one end the date, 1852. After numerous inquiries, Short learned that the trough was probably made from Cape Girardeau sandstone by slaves.

Fair Visitors to Explore 'Lost River'

Visitors to the new World's Fair which opens in Chicago May 26 will float, in a boat pushed by a prehistoric man, down the "Lost River" through the world of a million years ago in this new exposition feature located on the new Beach Midway. This is one of all the new, startling features offered to Fair visitors this summer, at low cost. The prehistoric monsters reproduced will be animated, in some cases by as many as sixteen motors. They will move, hiss and roar. There are ample tourist accommodations and parking space adjacent to the Fair.

After Bridge Snacks

HAVE YOU noticed during recent months that party menus everywhere are much simpler? Foods that are ready before guests arrive or are of the "everyone prepare it yourself" variety—it's all a part of the very general movement toward less elaborate meals of all types. It's smart to do things simply! Hostesses everywhere welcome these new fashioned less intricate party menus that mean so little preparation and fuss at serving time. There is no feeling of effort—all of which leads to informality and general enjoyment. Here are several suggestions for after bridge bites you will enjoy for winter parties. Very unassuming—all of them—but fashionable.

Molded Vegetable Salad*
Crackers spread with Roquefort Cheese or other cheese
Ripe Mission Olives
Celery stuffed with Peanut Butter and Chili Sauce
Coffee
Homemade Candy

In this menu place everything on luncheon plate, except candy and coffee.

Consommé (ready-to-serve) Crackers
Sweet Gherkins
Veal Salad* Hot Rolls
Coffee Mints

Frozen Tuna Fish Salad* Hot Potato Chips
Buttered Cloverleaf Rolls
Coffee
Homemade Candy

Molded Vegetable Salad—Soak 1 tablespoon gelatin in ¼ cup cold water five minutes and dissolve in ½ cup boiling water. Add 3 tablespoons Pure Vinegar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ cup diced celery, 1 cup cooked peas and 1 cup shredded cabbage, and mix thoroughly. Turn into a square pan, chill, and cut into squares. Serve in nests of lettuce with Mayonnaise Dressing.

Veal Salad—Place 3 pounds of veal (from the shoulder) in a cooking pan. Almost cover with water, add several stalks of celery, onion, 1 tablespoon salt, pepper and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce, and cook slowly until the meat is tender. Allow the meat to cool in the broth in which it has been cooked. Cut meat in cubes, add an equal amount of diced celery and ¼ cup Stuffed Spanish Olives, sliced. Mix, sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste, and add ½ teaspoon sugar. Moisten with Mayonnaise Dressing. Place in nests of lettuce; garnish with slices of hard cooked egg and Stuffed Olive.

Frozen Tuna Fish Salad—Soak 2 teaspoons plain gelatin in 6 tablespoons cold water and dissolve over boiling water. Add 2 cups flaked tuna fish (or other sea food), 2/3 cup Tomato Ketchup, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce, 3 tablespoons Pure-Cider Vinegar, 1 teaspoon Evaporated Horseradish, soaked 10 minutes in 1 tablespoon cold water, ¾ teaspoon salt and ½ cup Mayonnaise Dressing. Mix gently. Pour into 2 trays of automatic refrigerator and allow to freeze, stirring once during freezing process. Cut into ½ inch squares and serve on slices of tomato on nests of lettuce. Use three slices of tomato for each salad and place a square on each slice. Garnish with Mayonnaise Dressing and serve. Tiny mounds of cole slaw may be used in place of the tomato slices. Serves 6.

HOMESTEAD PLAN TO BE PERFECTED SOON

During the early part of this month lands for subsistence homestead projects in Missouri will be secured. Officials of the State planning board are considering three separate schemes under which they may effect their project.

In the six national forests in the State are tracts too valuable for forest unit uses. They would serve a much better purpose in this economic setup. Numerous people could have homes within the forest areas if this land were bought. There, in fertile soil, they could grow a limited crop and work at jobs provided for them in the national forests.

The second plan would embrace the purchase of submarginal lands. On them would be located forest units and small-tract homesteads. There, too, inhabitants would be given seasonal employment in the forests.

The last plan would involve the retirement of submarginal land, particularly in northern Missouri. Tracts, ranging from forty acres upward and located in many sections of the State would be bought and used for reforestration and soil erosion control projects. Besides, they would serve as small parks for recreational use and for game preserves. In addition to providing employment, this plan would permanently remove from cultivation much desirable land.

All purchases in the State will be made from a special fund of $25,000,000 allotted to the Department of the Interior for this purpose. It is thought that possibly as many as 5000 small tracts and several thousand acres in the forests will be bought for subsistence homesteads.

LIVELY DIVORCE BUSINESS DONE BY MEXICAN JUDGE

Since becoming judge of the Juarez, Mexico, Civil Court nineteen months ago, Ignacio Guiterrez Zamora has granted approximately 2800 divorce decrees to American couples.

Judge Guiterrez believes that the Chihuahua divorce law, which provides quick and easy decrees for dissatisfied persons, is the "salvation" for many American couples who cannot obtain freedom under complicated American laws.

"In Mexico, a marriage ceremony is just a civil contract, and should be broken when both parties no longer wish to observe its provisions".

The judge disapproves of divorce for movie actresses because, he thinks, some of them get decrees only for notoriety. "I am opposed to such practices", he added.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

MARKETING continues to be a pleasure so long as there is a wide choice of foods at reasonable or low cost. This is particularly true of fresh fruits and vegetables at this time but also of meat, fish, eggs, cheese and butter as well. Most staples are still moderately priced although they have felt the upward trend of prices.

Among the vegetables the cabbage family is outstanding in quality and price. Lettuce and celery are plentiful and cheap. Green beans are not as fine as they have been. Spinach is plentiful.

California oranges are very attractive in quality and price. Grapefruit continues to deserve superlatives. Bananas are improving in quality with no change in price. Strawberries are plentiful and low priced.

The Quaker Maid suggests the following Sunday Dinner menus.

Low Cost Dinner

Roast Pork Browned Potatoes
Creamed Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Apple Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Pot Roast of Beef with Vegetables (Potatoes, Onions, Carrots, Turnips)
Celery Olives
Bread and Butter
Orange Gelatin Dessert
Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Orange, Banana and Strawberry Cup
Roast Beef Browned Potatoes
Creamed Spinach
Lettuce Peanut Butter Dressing
Rolls and Butter
Cottage Pudding Vanilla Sauce

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Missouri

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 1.

Adding Section 44d to Article IV.

(Submitted by the General Assembly.)

Proposed amendment authorizing $10,000,000 bond issue of State of Missouri for construction of buildings and additions to and repairing buildings at penal and eleemosynary institutions.

JOINT AND CONCURRENT RESOLUTION submitting to the qualified voters of the State of Missouri an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of Missouri, to authorize the General Assembly to contract a debt or liability on behalf of the State of Missouri, and to issue bonds of the State of Missouri to an amount not exceeding Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000) for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding, or repairing, remodeling and rebuilding state buildings and properties at all or any of the eleemosynary or penal institutions of this state, for building additions thereto, and additional buildings where necessary, to be submitted to the voters at the next general election after the adoption of this resolution or at a special election to be called, at the discretion of the Governor, prior thereto.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that:

At the general election to be held on the Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1934, or at a special election to be called by the Governor, in his discretion, prior to such general election, there shall be submitted to the electors of this State, for their approval or rejection, an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Missouri, adding to Article IV thereof, between Section 44c and Section 45, a new section to be known as Section 44d, to read as follows:

Section 44d. In addition to the exceptions made in Sections 44, 44a, 44b and 44c, the General Assembly shall have power to contract or to authorize the contracting of a debt or liability on behalf of the State and to issue bonds or other evidences of indebtedness therefor, not exceeding in the aggregate Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000), for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding, or of repairing, remodeling and rebuilding State buildings and properties at all or any of the eleemosynary or penal institutions of this State, for building additions thereto and additional buildings where necessary; such bonds to bear interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum (5%) per annum, payable semi-annually, and maturing not later than thirty-five (35) years from their date. Said bonds shall be issued by the State Board of Fund Commissioners in such amounts, from time to time, as may be necessary to carry out the purposes herein provided for. The proceeds of the sale or sales of any bonds issued hereunder, together with any funds granted by or otherwise received from any agency of the Federal Government in aid of the purposes herein specified, shall be paid into the state treasury and be credited to a fund to be designated the "State Building Fund," and shall thereupon stand appropriated, without legislative action, for said purposes and for the payment of all expenses incidental thereto.

The proceeds of the sale of the Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000) of bonds herein authorized shall be expended for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding any of the public buildings of the State of Missouri devoted to eleemosynary and penal purposes, and for building additions thereto, and additional buildings where necessary.

The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid out of the State Building Bond interest and Sinking Fund, which is hereby created and which fund is to be provided by the levy and collection of a direct annual tax upon all taxable property within the State and from the levy and collection of any special tax or taxes which may be authorized by the General Assembly and by it directed to be applied to the payment of interest and maturing principal of said bonds. If at any time after the issuance of any of the said bonds it shall become apparent to the State Auditor that there will not be sufficient monies in said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund for the payment of the principal and interest maturing and accruing on said bonds during the next succeeding calendar year, it shall be the duty of the State Auditor, annually, on or before the first day of July, to determine the rate of taxation necessary to be levied upon all taxable property within the State to raise the amount of money needed for that year to pay the principal and interest of said bonds maturing and accruing in the next succeeding year, taking into consideration available funds, delinquencies and costs of collection. And the Auditor shall annually certify the rate of taxation so determined, to the clerk of the county court of each county, and to the assessor or other officer in the City of St. Louis, whose duty it shall be to make up and certify the tax books wherein are extended the ad valorem state taxes. It shall be the duty of said clerks and the said assessor or other proper officer in the City of St. Louis to extend upon the tax books the taxes to be collected, and to certify the same to the collectors of the revenue of their respective counties and of the City of St. Louis, who shall collect such taxes at the same time and in the same manner and by the same means as are now or may hereafter be provided by law for the collection of state and county taxes, and pay the same into the state treasury. All funds paid into the State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund shall be and stand appropriated without legislative action to the payment of principal and interest of the said bonds, there to remain until paid out in discharge of the principal of said bonds and the interest accruing thereon, and no part of said fund shall be used for any other purpose so long as any of the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon shall be unpaid. If at any time the balance in said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund should be insufficient to pay accruing interest or maturing principal of said bonds, the Board of Fund Commissioners shall direct the State Auditor and the State Treasurer to transfer on their books from the State Revenue Fund to said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund the sum required for said purposes, or either of them, and such sum so transferred shall be reimbursed to the State Revenue Fund whenever there may be a balance in the said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund in excess of the amount which may then be needed to meet the accruing interest and maturing principal of the said bonds during one year next succeeding.

Those institutions of the State of Missouri to which any of the proceeds of the sale of said bonds may be devoted are those eleemosynary and penal institutions whose buildings are in need of repair or remodeling or in need of being rebuilt or in need of additions or additional buildings.

The General Assembly shall enact such laws as may be necessary to carry this amendment into effect.

State of Missouri, Department of State. } ss.

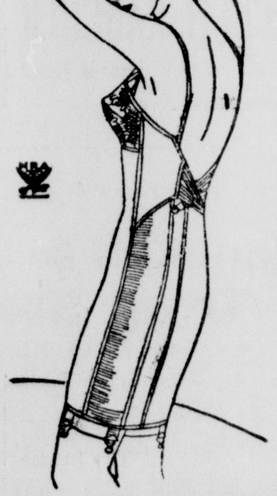

I, Dwight H. Brown, Secretary of State of the State of Missouri, hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and complete copy of a Joint and Concurrent Resolution of the Fifty-seventh General Assembly (Extra Session), of the State of Missouri of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Missouri; to be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Missouri at the special election called by the Governor, to be held on May 15, 1934.

In testimony whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Missouri. Done at office in the City of Jefferson, this 22nd day of March, A. D. 1934.

CAIRO MEN OFFER FREE BRIDGE TRANSPORTATION

In an effort to reach the trade of Southeast Missouri, the retail merchants of Cairo will conduct an experiment for one month by allowing customers to Cairo a free transportation over the Mississippi river bridge on one day each week, probably Saturday.

Believing that the bridge toll has kept persons of this section from going to Cairo to shop, the Cairo merchants are trying to discover if business can be secured again. If their experiment is successful, it will be made permanent and possibly extended to include more days a week than one.

To tell Southeast Missouri resident of their offers the Cairo merchants are running advertisements in The Standard, beginning this week.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy shown us in our late sad hour of bereavement in the loss of our beloved daughter and sister, Hazel Beck, and for their many beautiful floral offerings We especially thank Rev. C. F. Transue of the Nazarene church for his kind and consoling words, the pallbearers, the flower girls, the pianist, the soloist and the funeral director, H J. Welsh, for his kind and efficient service.

FISHING IN CANADA

"It is there that we are going with our rods and reels and traces,
To a silent, smoky Indian that we know—
To a couch of new-pulled hemlock with the starlight on our faces,
For the Red Gods call us out and we must go!"

RUDYARD KIPLING'S lines are brought to mind by a booklet entitled "Sport Fishing in Canada" issued by the National Parks of Canada, Department of the Interior, Ottawa. This publication is a timely and welcome handbook on Canadian fishing waters, for with the advent of spring there comes to the angler an irresistible call from the lake and stream, the woods, and the hills. To many he feels the whip of rod, hears the hum of singing reel, and sees his drifting canoe with a dusky Indian in the stern being propelled slowly to a camp beneath the stars.

For many years thousands of fishermen from all over America have visited old and favoured fishing locations in Canada. More recently the extension of railways and the construction of new motor roads have placed hitherto inaccessible fishing waters within easy reach of the great centres of population. In these unspoiled waters from the Atlantic to the Pacific the angler will find unexcelled sport for many varieties of game fish. There is in Canada game fish for every class of angler. There are the Atlantic, tyee, and coho salmon and the numerous species of the trout family; there is that knight in bronze armour, the bass; that warrior which lurks amidst the lily pads, the maskinonge; the ubiquitous pike; the toothsome pickerel; the mighty tuna and sword fish; and other sporting varieties.

All these species are not found in the same waters, nor even in the same provinces, but each has its range somewhere in Canada. The open seasons on the various species differ according to local conditions, and parties contemplating a trip should secure all available information in advance, as careful planning adds greatly to the success and enjoyment of a holiday.

"Sport Fishing in Canada" is interesting, it is free, and will be found most useful to the fisherman now preparing his "rods and reels and traces" for the coming vacation season.

MISS MAUDE HERRING HONORED AT SHOWER

Miss Maude Herring. who resigned this year as principal of the grammar school, was honored Monday evening with a surprise miscellaneous shower given by Miss Lillian Putnam at her home on North New Madrid Street.

The guests played bridge at seven tables. First, second and third honors were won by Miss Mignon Newton, Mrs. W. W. Hinchey and Mrs. E. W. Davis, respectively. Miss Herring was awarded a guest prize, and at the conclusion of playing she was given the other three as well.

At 9 o'clock, a Western Union messenger called Miss Herring to the front door and presented her with a package containing all the gifts.

Miss Herring will be married at the end of the school term to Vance Montgomery.

Mrs. M. M. Beck, T. H. Simpson and Miss Ruth Inez Felker were in Cape Girardeau, Wednesday.

Even in winter, jelly like this can be made easily.

MOTHER, isn't there any more jelly?"

How often this plaintive question is asked in most families late each winter, after all those glasses of jellies and jams put up last summer have been eaten and the pantry shelves are rapidly becoming bare again.

However, just because the summer fruits happen to be out of season, the modern homemaker isn't stumped. She knows that jellies, jams and marmalades can be easily and rapidly made for her table by using canned, dried, and citrus fruits, or fruit juices.

With the following recipes she can have a tempting dish of new marmalade, a hillock of jelly, or a new kind of jam ready for father and the children almost in a jiffy:

Grapefruit Jelly

3 cups (1½ lbs.) juice
6½ cups (2¾ lbs.) sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin

Add juice of 4 grapefruit to grated rinds and let stand 10 minutes. Press juice through cloth.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 8 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Canned Pineapple Mint Jam

2 cups (1 lb.) prepared fruit
3½ cups (1½ lbs.) sugar
green coloring
½ bottle fruit pectin
½ to 1½ teaspoons spearmint extract

To prepare fruit, use 1 No. 2 can of pineapple. Grind or chop fine. Juice of 1 lemon may be added, if more tart jam is desired.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Add green coloring to give desired shade (use coloring which fruit acids do not fade), while mixture is coming to a boil. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Add spearmint extract according to taste. Then stir and skim by turns for just 3 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 9 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Mrs. Robert Nolan and daughter, Miss Mary, left yesterday for Jefferson City, to visit the rest of the week.

Mrs. E. N. Leech, who was operated on Monday at St. Francis Hospital, Cape Girardeau, is reported to have come out from the operation very nicely, had a fairly good day Wednesday, and rested good that night.

Miss Ann Beck, who has visited the past two weeks at Centralia and Columbia, is expected home, Sunday.

Those who attended the private dance given at the Hotel Halliday in Cairo, Sunday night, were: Mr. and Mrs. L. Graber, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Shainberg, Mr. and Mrs. L. Shainberg, Miss Sylvia Goldstein and Miss Fannye Becker, Sikeston; Mr. and Mrs. J. Shainberg, Miss Gertrude Shainberg and Morse Frankle, New Madrid.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Davis returned Tuesday from Vincennes, Ind., where they had spent a week.

James Mocabee returned from St. Louis, Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by his wife. Mrs. Mocabee had been a patient at the Barnes Hospital, where she underwent an operation. She stood the trip home fine, had a good night's rest, and is improving nicely

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Conrad and children and Chester Conrad visited Mrs. Cora Conrad Wednesday night at the Southeast Missouri Hospital, Cape Girardeau. Mrs. Conrad was taken to the hospital Monday afternoon and her condition is reported very satisfactory. Dr. Wilson and wife and Miss Mary Lough of Bartlesville, Okla., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Martin last night. Today, Dr. and Mrs. Wilson will go to Louisville, Ky., to attend the derby. Miss Lough will go to Charleston for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lough.

Mrs. George Greathouse of Elko, Nev., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Jane Mills. Mrs. Greathouse's many friends are very glad to see her and trust that she will make an extended visit.

Standard, $2.00 per year.

RAISING OF FIELD CROPS ADVANCES WITH SEASON

The amount of land planted for the principal field crops will probably be less this year than in the preceding three years. Reductions are particularly marked in regard to corn and tobacco, which are both involved in the government's curtailment program.

Acreages to be put into tame hay, oats, sweet and Irish potatoes, and peanuts in land embracing parts of Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Missisippi, Kentucky, Indiana and Arkansas will probably be greater than in 1933, according to a bulletin issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

22 SEALS!

LITTLE AMERICA, ANTARCTICA, April 24, (via Mackay Radio). We are like an army, digging in and getting everything ready for the big battle to come. The long Antarctic night has descended upon us and all day and night we are in a deep gray shadow. Sometimes, when the sky is overcast or a storm is raging, we are in inky blackness. Most of the time, however, it is a thick, heavy gray which lets us see a dozen or so feet away. Some days and nights we have moonlight and that helps a lot. This absence of daylight is so new to me that it gives me the willies but the old-timers tell me I'll get used to it. We'll make up for it next summer when we have sunlight for months, 24 hours a day. The sun is due to pay us its next visit August 22 and will we give it a cheer!

Commander Hjalmar Gjertsen Expedition Commodore

I don't like to see seals killed but down here it is very necessary, to preserve health for us and our dogs. We have 500 seals, all frozen, some in our storehouses, the rest out on the ice several miles away—in Nature's biggest icebox. You know, we have two kinds of seals down here, the Crab-eaters and the Weddell seals, and two kinds of penguins, the little Adelie and the Emperors. The Crab-Eater seals weigh about 200 pounds when fully grown and are courageous fighters, with sharp teeth, although they can't open their mouths very wide when gobgling crustaceans and small fish. They are a neutral gray and travel over the ice like serpents. They are arrogant, active, interesting and delicious to eat, although their flesh, under the coating of fat or blubber, is very black, like all the birds and animals down here, including whales, on account of the richness of their blood. They make a funny, indescribable noise, half grunt, half moo like a cow.

The Weddell seals are much bigger, weighing 25 to 35 pounds when born, growing 50 pounds a week for the first two or three weeks, then more slowly until they reach around 500 pounds. They have no teeth but and no difficulty eating crabs and other crustaceans and fish by crushing them. They travel by wiggling along, very different from the Crab-Eaters. They are dark brown or black with bright gray spots, hair instead of fur, and make the darndest noise I ever heard—a cross between the trill of a canary and a faint moo. None of the seals down here bark like the northern seals. The Weddell seals can open their mouths prodigiously—150 degrees. And are they lazy! A few days before the sun and the seals (and all other creatures including the whales) disappeared, I ran at two seals on the bay ice, to scare them. You know the animals down here have no fear of humans, because they haven't been hunted with guns—only clubs. Well, the Crab-Eater snaked over the ice and popped into the water of an open lead. The Weddell opened one eye, looked at me scornfully, and closed it again.

I've talked with the tractor crews and the dog team men who set up our southern bases for the explorations we're going to start next spring—in October. Both groups did a marvelous job and had a horrible time doing it. Captain Innes Taylor, William Paine, Finn Ronne and Dick Black, with their dog teams, established a big food and supply base for us 180 miles south of here. You might mark that trip on your club maps, using the proper legend for the dog teams—to Latitude 81.2 South Longitude 160.5 West.

We've got a big thrill coming later this month—if we're not beset by too many storms and blizzards. The scientists have told us there will be a lot of vivid meteor showers and they have built an observatory. So now we are all waiting to observe this show to be put on by the heavenly bodies. I'll tell you all about it.

Have you and your friends joined our club yet? Why don't you get your school teachers to enroll their entire classes, as 142 other teachers have done? The club is open to everybody interested in aviation, exploration and adventure and there are no expenses whatever to members. Simply send stamped, clearly self-addressed envelope, or, in case of school teachers, the names and home addresses of self and pupils, with stamp for each, to A. C. Abele, Jr., President, Little America Aviation & Exploration Club, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York City and our big free working map of the South Pole region and membership card will be sent immediately.

Total acreage of the chief crops, including winter wheat seeded last fall and excluding cotton, is estimated at 4.9 per cent less than in 1933, and 10 per cent less than in 1932. The retarded cold weather which appeared in the latter part of March was generally favorable for agriculture since it prevented too rapid growth and development of vegetation. The accompanying snow and rain were helpful, too, especially in regions where moisture had been deficient earlier in the season.

Estimates of the probably wheat production in these south central States place the figure at 81,097,000, almost 10,000,000 more than in 1933, but less by about 4,000,000 than the 1927 to 1932 average. Preparations have been made for the corn crop although some delay was necessary because of inclement weather. By now, however, almost all seeding operations have been completed, and if government predictions are reliable there may be a yield of 269,397,000 bushels.

Except for the peach buds which suffered from late freezes in parts of Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, the outlook for fruits is generally favorable. In Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee, the 1934 crop of early strawberries is estimated at 3,165,000 crates, an increase of 64.5 per cent over last year's production. The condition of apples and early potatoes is in the main above that of 1933.

Approximately 170,000 fewer head of cattle are said to be on feed for market in this district than last year, but more than in 1932. The reason for this is tho't to be the sealing on farms of the 1933 corn crop to secure federal loans, with the result that corn prices are higher than cattle prices.

By the middle of last month a great deal of ground had been prepared for this year's tobacco crop. Tobacco plant beds were sown in late February and in the intervals of favorable weather in March, and the plants are growing and are mainly healthy, with good prospects for early development and transplanting. The total 1933 burley crop is estimated at 385,000,000 pounds, and present indications are that at the final closing of all markets, there wlil be less burley tobacco in farmers' hands than for any crop in recent fired tobacco sold in the best markets from $27 to $38.50 per cwt., years. Good to fine quality dark the highest prices of the season.

Preparations for the new cotton crop have generally been completed, and seeding has made considerable headway in the southern counties. Demand for raw cotton showed little change as contrasted with the preceding thirty days, and prices fluctuated within a relatively narrow range. The average, however, continued approximately twice as high as during the corresponding period a year and two years ago.

Some fear over the direct results of the Bankhead cotton reduction law have been expressed by executives of numerous southern industries who estimate the loss to businesses wholly or partially dependent on cotton and to the employes of these concerns in wages at nearly $90,000,000 a year. They believe, further, that the added cost to United States cotton consumers through the processing tax and through the increased price of cotton will be $373,000,000. The benefits to the cotton growers from this increased price and from government subversions will be only about $350,000,000, they think.

Without government interference the south would grow approximately 15,000,000 bales of cotton annually and would try to sell it at a price of at least 15 cents a pound. The Bankhead bill limited the crop to 10,000,000.

American mills use only about 6,000,000 bales annually, and all production above that must be exported if it is not to become a surplus which will lower the price and make cotton growing unprofitable.

It is thought that on the most efficient plantations, cotton may be raised and picked for 6 cents a pound, but the cost to most producers exceeds that. In recent years the amount of American cotton consumed has decreased while that of foreign cotton hsa increased. This situation was produced, it is thought, by a refusal of foreign nations to buy in the United States because of the tariff which bars their goods from our country.

Cotton executives and economists emphasize it is not the domestic but the export cotton, which brings new money to the cotton growing south, that is being reduced. The cotton producers, the laborers, and the merchants who are dependent for a living on these persons will all suffer, they say.

Now the south either produce and sell surplus cotton to the world or radically reduce its equipment and population. Channels of reciprocal trade with the world must be opened and handicaps on the sale of cotton to the world must be removed, they say.

SO THIS IS THE LAW!

For weeks the law has been defied by John Dillinger, murderer, who escaped from a so-called jail with a wooden gun and since then has been roaming the country. The police of at least four States—Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota—have been made to look silly by this one bandit.

In New York—on the same day that Dillinger eluded police in Wisconsin—a child with a toy hoe scraped up some mud in Central Park, and for this heinous offense the mother and child were forced to spend an entire day in court and in jail. The sun was shining outdoors, but the majesty of the law must be upheld, and so the 2-year-old child was soundly spanked to keep him quiet in the courtroom Justice—if that's what it is called—must not be outraged!

Here is a perfect illustration of why the police and the courts in the United States are held in low public esteem. Politicians, police and judiciary play games of drop-the-handkerchief with bandits, thugs, racketeers and plug-uglies. Then they turn around and persecute women and children who cannot defend themselves. Let it never be said that they quail before a woman or child! They have their duty to perform! If they cannot protect citizens, at least they can harry and annoy them.—Christian Science Monitor.

IT'S PAST TIME TO SEND SLUDGE, the OIL-EATER, ON HIS WAY!

Continuing to Drive With Winter Oil Costs You Money Daily

● It's high time you changed to a heavier motor oil—as an economy move! Lighter oils are subject to faster and faster consumption as the mercury continues to rise.

Besides, if you have been using ordinary oil the chances are that there is trouble-making sludge in your crankcase right now.

You know how the ugly mess called Sludge fouls the oil filter and lines—makes piston rings stick and causes costly pumping of oil—slows down valve action, bringing wasteful loss of gasoline power.

So get rid of sludge, once and for all, by having your crankcase drained at a Standard Oil station—then refill with Iso-Vis "D", the anti-sludge motor oil. You'll have an economical, sludge-less summer and a clean, lively, efficient engine.

ISO-VIS "D" . . . . . 25c a qt.
PLUS FEDERAL TAX . . . . . 1c a qt.
TOTAL . . . . . 26c a qt.

Where Safety Award Was Won

This mountainous road in West Virginia over which pedestrians used to walk in fear of their lives today has become equally famous as a thoroughfare of safety.

YEARS ago, legend has it, miners traversed the road and passed through the rocky cut en route to spend their Saturday nights in the boom town of Keystone. On their return, they were often waylaid by bandits, who so often killed their victims, that the path became known as "Dead Man's Cut."

Last year, however, the road, which links Welch and Bluefield, West Va., became prominently associated with the thought of safety, for it was over this stretch and the highway between Bluefield and Roanoke, Va., that the safest intercity small fleet bus operation in the United States was recorded.

Although the road curves its way in a series of horseshoe loops up and down and around the sides of several mountains of the Alleghanies, the Pocahontas Transportation Co., of Bluefield, covered 555,090 miles over it without accident during the period July 1, 1932 to June 30, 1933, and thereby won the award of the National Safety Council which is made each year to the bus line registering the least percentage of accidents per 100,000 miles.

The company attributes its achievement to the careful manner in which it selects its drivers and to its equipment, particularly the U. S. tires whose traction was such that drivers rarely used chains even when the mountains were covered with snow and ice in midwinter.

THREE TALK IN FAVOR OF STATE BOND ISSUE

Three men, prominent in State activities, spoke in favor of the $10,000,000 proposed bond issue for the remodeling of Missouri penal and eleemosynary institutions at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Railroad Park.

They were Harry S. Truman, presiding judge of the Jackson County Court and State re-employment director, Neal D. Williams, who is in charge of the Veterans' Placement Service, and Martin Lewis, formerly State re-employment director.

Judge Truman also spoke at the weekly Lions Club luncheon.

The earthly ministry of our Lord was summed up by St. Luke, as the things which "Jesus began to do and teach". MARRIAGES NOW DON'T WEAR OUT

By Helen Rowland

To almost any normal woman, the whole business of life is love. She may go through the motions of building a career, working in an office or running a tearoom; but only a small portion of her heart is in it. And when love goes blah, she discovers that she is only marking time. But, to a man, love is only the busines of his leisure. And he seldom "sees a dream walking", untli he has locked his office desk.

Another mistake which a woman as an adult, as responsible as marriage, is that of regarding a man as an adut, as responsible as herself. Whereas, few men ever develop emotionally beyond the 12-year-old stage.

Before marriage, a girl is eternally tormenting herself to find out what a man means. But, nine times out of ten, he doesn't mean anything! He calls up the first girl on his telephone list, dances with the girl who happens to be nearest at hand or knows how to ease him to the altar most painlessly

If a bride of 18 or 20 would realize that the husky six-footer beside her who calls her "Baby Doll" and poses as the Book of Knowledge, is only about half her age emotionally, she would take him less seriously, indulge his lighter moods and avoid a honeymoon smash-up

Modern marriage don't wear out—they don't last long enough. But, if you can keep the glamour all through the honeymoon, you can usually keep it for life.

THE EDITOR SAYS—

Test tube babies and anonymous fathers is now being practiced and scientists claim it a great success. The anonymous fathers are paid from $100 to $150.

Every girl in the bridal dress parade was beautiful. Some more beautiful than others. In our own mind's eye we know the one we thought the most beautiful, but have sense enough not to print it.

We asked a young gentleman if he attended the Tom Thumb Wedding Pageant given at the Methodist Church Tuesday evening. He said no, that he didn't like children and for that reason did not attend. This was a surprise to us who can see something interesting in all of them. Some are pretty, some are ugly, some are clean and well dressed, some are dirty and ragged, but in the eyes of every one is a sparkle for the man or woman who has a kind word for them, or maybe a nickel. The small child is the only human being absolutely fearless and who will honestly say yes or no. Be a friend to and encourage children. You'll never regret it.

It should be good news for protestantism throughout the land that Bishop Cannon is to be retired. He has been a load stone to all protestant denominations since the presidential campaign of 1928. To be sure he was acquitted of certain charges by a jury of twelve, but convicted of everything a preacher should not do by millions of American people.

What would you do if you were invited to talk before a congregation of church members and church going people and you were not a member of any church? Do you think it would be sacriligious, and do you think it would be the right thing to do? The editor of The Standard is on the spot and puzzled as what to do after being invited to fill a date as a layman

The Standard editor acknowledges a call from Judge I. R. Kelso Tuesday. He was down from Cape Girardeau on a business trip and was accompanied by Mrs. Kelso and their daughter.

Another good thing has come to pass. Tom Heflin ran third for Congress in Alabama in an attempt to come back politically. Now he and Bishop Cannon can form a partnership and rip Catholicism to a frazzle.

The Standard editor regrets his absence from the office Wednesday afternoon when Judge Harry S. Truman, presiding judge of the Jackson County Court called. Judge Truman made a talk in Railroad Park in favor of the ten million dollar bond issue to be voted May 15.

Charles Boardman, street commissioner drove the editor over the city Wednesday afternoon to look over the work done by his crew. Streets in Sunset Addition, Chamber of Commerce Addition and High School Addition are in splendid condition at this time. Other streets in the main sections of the city are pretty rough, but Mr. Boardman promises to have them in order shortly.

Street Commissioner Boardman expects to be ready the coming week to oil streets of those wanting to keep down dust. If you are unable to see Mr. Boardman leave word with A. C. Barrett, City Clerk.

W. M. S. TO MEET TODAY

Rev. J. E. Smith, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene at Cape Girardeau, will speak on "Missions" at a meeting of the W. M. S. of the Nazarene church here which wil begin at 1 1o'clock Friday morning at the church.

At noon sandwiches will be served, and from 1 until 2 o'clock Mrs. L. H. Rector, president of the club, will preside at a business session. Following this will be the afternoon program on misisons, led by Mrs. C. F. Transue, study superintendent.

Mesdames A. B. Gilliland, Chas. Trickey, Charles Bradbury, Frank Stotts and Miss Georgia Freeze, members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Charleston, will represent the organization at the annual meeting of the Presbyterial of Potosi Presbytery of the Southern Presbyterian Church, which will convene at the Presbyterian Church in Caruthersville, Tuesday, May 1.

Sikeston Alloted $510 For Relief This Month

Sikeston was apportioned $510 of the $4500 allotted to Scott County for May by the Missouri Relief and Reconstruction Commission in Jefferson City at a meeting of relief committeemen held in the Scott County court house at Benton at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening.

The appropriations for the separate towns and communities of the county, determined as they were last month, were made in the following manner: Each district received $2 for each family on the whole relief roll during April, to be used for work relief. Of the county appropriation, $1500 was for work relief and $3000 for direct relief.

Sikeston's total allotment was granted for the 85 families on the work and direct relief rolls, a number considerably smaller than formerly, since in March, John Young, relief chairman here, had 208 families on the CWA roll.

In addition to this money, Sikeston was given $50 of $250.45 left over from the April appropriation for work relief. Other towns shared this money, Chaffee getting $100, Illmo $50, Oran, $50.

This money had to be used during Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, since the four weeks beginning in April ended yesterday. Work cards were reissued Tuesday and work began immediately.

The work relief appropriation for Sikeston will be spent in completing the municipal airport. The direct relief money will be given to indigent families in the form of grocery orders for work on the city streets, the parks, the community garden, and any other jobs which the town can provide for them.

It is thought that work relief will be discontinued at the end of this new four weeks, on June 1. Direct relief will probably extend throughout the remainder of 1934. The jobs of all county employes who are executing clerical work pertaining to the relief setup, ended yesterday, since from Jefferson City came orders that all appointments will hereafter be made from the State relief offices. It is believed, however, that most, if not all of them, will be re-hired for the same jobs which they now hold.

It is also thought that with the ending of work relief and the continuation only of direct relief, numerous town and community chairmen will resign their positions, which have been held without pay, and some competent person, who is well-acquainted with the various aspects of relief work, will be hired to direct activities for the whole county.

There have been 695 persons on the county during April. These same men and women will now be put to work on new projects or on extensions of old ones. It is possible that some will spend their allotted weekly hours in improving county drainage ditches, since members of the county court stated they were interested in such work, particularly on ditches 10 (Northcut) and 1 (Little River). They agreed to pay a foreman for the job, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made for transportation of men to and from these ditches, as well as one near Vanduser, the plan may materialize.

The following members of the Scott County Committee, which directs all relief work, were present at Monday's meeting: Chairman, J. J. Miller, Illmo; John A. Young, Sikeston; Roy Green, Blodgett; T. A. Heisserer, Oran; Mayor L. J. Heyman, Chaffee. Others attending were Jack Dolan, Illmo and Alvin Papin, Chaffee, county supervisors for the new relief setup; Martha Harrison, employment certifying officer.

Dr. C. B. Thomas, Chaffee, and C. D. Matthews, Jr., Sikeston, also members of the county committee, were not present.

Extension of Air Meet Celebration Suggested

The airplane fleet of the Missouri National Guard may possibly accept an invitation to be here for maneuvers at the Sikeston municipal airport dedication July 3 and 4. The number of ships in this unit is not known but members of the city aviation board feel that its presence here would add immeasurably to the program planned for those days.

Believing that since Sikeston will have no fair this year and no other celebration of consequsnce, some townspeople think that the air meet should be converted into a four-day fair. To the various air contests, parachute leaps and exhibition flying in which visiting pilots will compete and to the boys' model airplane competition which will be held, these people would add carnival attractions, such as ferris wheels, shooting galleries, side shows, merry-go-rounds and airplane swings, numerous eating concessions, and a huge style show, similar to the one once held at a fair here, with many models, elaborate decorations, and an orchestra.

Final work necessary to complete the airport according to government regulations will begin immediately. Labor will be furnished by men on the work relief roll. There now remain only about ten acres in the northwest corner of the field which have not yet been cut to a 1 per cent grade.

Twenty drivers with teams and shovels and men operating one large tractor and grader began March 2 to level the 160 acres leased by the city from the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company for five years, with an option to re-lease or buy the ground later.

On March 19 bids for contracts for airport materials were opened in Jefferson City and the contracts awarded immediately. The following Sikeston firms were designated to supply the materials: Dye Filling Station, gasoline and oil; E. C. Robinson Lumber Company, paint; McCoy Seed Company, fence posts and hardware.

Working men a maximum number of allowed hours, first under the CWA, then under the work relief setup, J. W. Baker, Jr., supervisor of the project, had an average of 100 cubic yards of earth moved every day from the 160-acre tract. In accordance with government specifications, which required that the airport be made into at least a 2 per cent grade, he arranged to have 50,000 cubic yards of earth moved from the field.

Laid out in a triangular shape, the airport, when completed, will have two 500-foot runways on the eastern and western sides and a 100-foot circle within the triangle. Around the circle is a 4-foot walk, which will be kept white. The upper parts of fence posts surrounding the field and of the telephone poles at the south end have botn been painted orange. The telephone poles have been painted white on the lower half as well.

During April the ground was seeded with lespedeza and oats to keep it exactly its prescribed level. Soon blue grass seed will also be planted.

The small hangar formerly built on the ball park by Leonard McMullin was moved to the field and reconstructed by workmen, who also painted the upper half of it orange. Although Mr. McMullin gave the structure to the city, he will continue to use it for the airplane which he operates.

Members of the city aviation board are the following men: Chairman, Hubert Boyer, representing the City of Sikeston; secretary, J. E. Harper, representing the Chamber of Commece, treasurer, Clay Mitchell, representing the Henry Meldrum Post 114 of the American Legion; technician, Leonard McMullin, representing the Scott County Court.

Trousdale's One-Stop Station Opening Sat.

F. F. Trousdale, who, for many years, has operated a service station and a lunch room one block west of Frisco on Highway 60, has remodeled and papered and fully equipped his cafe, adding all modern applicances and installing individual booths for customers. This renovized cafe and beer parlor will be open Saturday.

To every guest at the Trousdale's One-Stop Station on this opening day will be given free, a glass of beer and a sandwich.

Mr. Trousdale will regularly serve beer, hot and cold lunches, ice cream, soft drinks, candies and cigars and cigarettes. He has ample parking space for customers, and will continue to run his service station, where people may get gasoline, oil, tires, tubes and accessories and may have their automobiles repaired and greased.

Average Sikestonian Spends $400 Per Year In Local Shops

Residents of Sikeston and vicinity spend approximately $400 per person in the retail stores and shops here each year, according to an estimate made by the Chicago Wholesale Market Council.

The State of Missouri's total retail trade of about one and a half billion dollars is equal to almost one half the volume of wholesale trade of Chicago, whose Wholesale Market District, lying just west of the famous "Loop", is considered one of the greatest in the world.

The study which revealed the figures was made by the newly formed Wholesale Council to determine how best to meet the needs of retail merchants who depend largely upon Chicago wholesalers for goods to stock their shelves for Missouri purchasers. An expansion and improvement program, including numerous additional buyers' services, has been launched to accommodate the throng of merchants who are expected to combine a visit to the Century of Progress with their annual or semi-annual buying trip.

The estimate is based on the total retail trade of the State and the population, both reported in the latest United States census.

The $40 per person, or about $1500 per family, spent with Missouri retailers includes all purchases, except for personal services, such as laundry and barbering.

The Chicago Wholesale Market Council includes in its membership many of the nations leading wholesalers and manufacturers of men's clothing, women's wear and general dry goods, some of which have been located in the Wholesale Market District since the Great Chicago Fire of 1871.

Peters-Vitality Win at Shoe Ball Games

by Leo Smith

The game scheduled for Friday was played off Tuesday afternoon.

The Peters defeated the Vitality team 4 to 0.

Cecil Smith pitching for Peters was very effective, letting Vitality down with only two hits, Herman Weeks getting both of them. Smith also struck out seven batters. Paul Crain pitching for Vitality, was also in form, letting Peters down with five hits and striking out thirteen batters.

His teammates made four errors behind him, this being mostly the cause of his defeat. The game was the best and fastest of the season and was played in one hour and fifteen minutes.

Leo Brown was the leading hitter for the winners, getting two hits out of three times at bat.

This game marked two straight wins for the Peters. The Friedman-Shelby vs. Peters play Friday.

The score:

Peters	4	5	2
Vitality	0	2	4

The Vitality team defeated the R. J. & R. team Monday by a score of 12 to 3.

The R. J. & R. team led 3 to 1 for four innings, when Vitality started a rally in the fifth inning to tie the score 3 all. In 6th inning they collected 9 runs together with 5 errors to win, 12 to 3.

A. Williams was the leading hitter for the winners, getting 3 hits in 5 times at bat. P. Joyce was the leading hitter for the losers, geting two hits. The winners collected 12 hits, 6 of them going for extra bases.

The score:

R. J. & R	3	6	7
Vitality	12	12	9

TWO HELD FOR SHOOTING

Two negroes were arrested in Mississippi County and put in the New Madrid County jail Tuesday by Sheriff Sam Harris, who said they admitted shooting October 28 into a negro house near New Madrid, where a dance was being held. Three negroes were wounded.

These men, Jim Johnson, 27 years old, and John Henry Reed, 30 years old, will be charged with firing at other persons with intent to kill. Johnson was found at Sledge and Reed at Como after Sheriff Harris received a tip that the suspects were in Mississippi County.

FOUR ATTEND SALES CONFERENCE IN CAPE

J. N. Hitchcock, Marion Cox, Walter Ancell and Dale Dye, all of Sikeston, attended a special sales conference for employes of the Phillips Petroleum Corporation in the St. Louis division which was held Monday at the Hotel Marquette in Cape Girardeau.

During the afternoon session talks were made by various division supervisors and sales managers. After a banquet the men were entertained with dance and vocal specialities and a girls' and men's trio. Kassel's Symphonic Girardeans furnished orchestra music.

About 150 men from Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, Kentucky, and Tennessee, attended the meeting.

Child Cut In Pieces by Frisco Freight Here Thursday Morning

Billy Monroe Demarris, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Estel Demarris, was almost instantly killed at about 10 o'clock Thursday morning when the 845 southbound Frisco freight train ran over him directly opposite the Sikeston Gin Company's offices.

The child's body was badly mutilated. His left leg was completely severed above the knee and the flesh was torn half way around the left side of his torso. His face was only slightly bruised.

The engineer, L. S. McConachie, of Chaffee, stated that he noticed some object in the tracks when he was still some distance away, but thought it was a piece of paper. When he came to a distance of about two and half car lengths from the scene of the accident, he discovered that the object was a child, no longer lying still, but moving. He applied his brakes immediately, but by the time he had halted the train, consisting of three cars and a caboose, the three cars had passed the child. He was going between fifteen and twenty miles an hour, he said, and was watching the crossing at North street, directly south, for automobiles.

McConachie and the fireman, G. W. Stone, also of Chaffee, got out and moved the child away from the tracks.

It is thought that Billy Monroe had crawled over into the tracks and had lain down in the triangular space between the extreme west rails, where one set turns off to lead into the yards of the Scott County Milling Company's Mill A. It is thought, as well, that the child may have gone to sleep [illegible] and only when the train was very near. He then probably started to crawl over the west track, but was caught before he could reach safety.

Since the train's pilot rises about three inches above the rails, it is believed that the child had gotten enough of his body over it so that he was not struck, but that the first wheel severed his leg from his body and the flange of a wheel caught his body, tearing his flesh.

Mrs. Eula Demarris, mother of the child, had left her home on North Handy street and was looking for her son to take him to the house for his nap. Coming from the rear of her home, which faces without obstruction the railroad track lying to the east, she did not see her child. As she reached Mill street and passed from there to the grassy right-of-way between the street and the railroad tracks, she saw the train stop suddenly. But not until after the engineer and fireman had gotten out did she see the child, the severed leg still halfway on the rail, the body lying on the edge of the ties.

Demarris was called immediately and the child was taken by H. J. Welsh to his funeral home on Center Street. Thursday afternoon the body was returned to the family home. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made, pending the arrival of out-of-town relatives.

Billy Monroe was one of four children. Demarris, who is a painter, works at the International Shoe Factory here.

It is not yet known if an inquest will be held.

Two Bound Over To Circuit Court

John Hedge and Carl O'Neal, both of Advance, who were arrested near Tanner early Monday morning and charged with stealing chickens in the night-time, waived preliminary hearing Tuesday before Justice W. C. Welman in Benton and were bound over to the next term of the Scott County Circuit Court.

It is said that the two men, both about 25 years old, had in their possession some chickens when they were arrested. Nick Darter, Harrison Darter and Leslie Matlock, all of the Tanner-Salcedo community, previously reported losing approximately 100 chickens to thieves.

Sheriff Joe Anderson, who caught the men, stated that O'Neal was released only three months ago from the penitentiary, where he served a term after being gsentenced on a similar charge.

Memphis C. of C. May Bring Air Fleet Here

An invitation has been extended to officials of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce to route their proposed good will airplane tour through Sikeston.

John Powell and Leon Gmeiner went to Memphis Sunday and talked to Capt. Vernon Omlie, who is arrangin the itinerray of the tour, which will probably be made late in August. Capt. Omlie spoke favorably about coming here, according to Mr. Powell, who also wrote a letter Tuesday to Cliff Penland, secretary of the aviation department of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

Men here feel that since Sikeston is the only city of size in the northern Memphis trade territory members of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce would greatly benefit by including this town in their tour. The general itinerary, as outlined at a meeting of the group's aviation division, embraces West Tennessee, North Mississippi, Eastern Arkansas and North Louisiana. The 105th Aero Squadron of the Tennessee National Guard will probably be invited to make the trip, which will last a week.

According to a spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce, "The Chamber is conducting a good will tour on behalf of the Cotton Carnival shortly, and the air tour is to carry out the same idea in connection with the fair. The most important purpose is for Memphis business men to make closer contacts with the people of our trade territory. We've got to keep on doing that all the time".

Four Are Candidates for Degrees at Mo. U.

Four young men from Sikeston are candidates for degrees at the graduation exercises at the University of Missouri in Columbia June 6.

Candidates for the degree of bachelor of arts are Alexander L. Russell and Arch Somerville Russell, sons of Mr and Mrs. Arch S. Russell, Sr.; for the degree of bachelor of science in business administration, Glenn Woods Bayer, son of G. H. Bayer; and for the degree of bachelor of laws, Robt. A. Dempster, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dempster.

Other candidates from Southeast Missouri are James Otto Lottes and John Watkins Oliver, bachelor of arts, and Paul Hartel Hackman, bachelor of science in education, all of Cape Girardeau; Elmer C. Axline, bachelor of science in engineering, Illmo; Kelley Elza Jackson, bachelor of science in public administration, East Prairie and Lewis Danforth Joslyn, Charleston, and Carl E. Williamson, Doniphan, both candidates for bachelor of arts and bachelor of laws degree.

A total of 616 students of the university will be candidates for degrees at the commencement this year. More than three-fourths of the counties in Missouri, two-thirds of the States in the country, and several foreign counties will be represented in the graduating class.

Casper S. Yost, St. Louis, editor of the editorial page of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, will deliver the commencement address.

The baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, June 3, will be given this year by the Rev. Father Robt. S. Johnston, president of St. Louis University. Class day will be June 4, and alumni day, June 5.

PYMOUTHS' ENDURANCE SHOWN AT FREE MOVIE

A free program consisting of four short talking pictures was presented by J. L. Priester at the Sikeston Motor Company on Front Street at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. About 500 persons attended.

The first movie, Mickey Mouse in "Western Whoopee", was followed by a reel which showed Billy Arnold and Barney Oldfield skijumping in a Plymouth and abusing the car, turning it over three times but each time righting it with its own power. This piece, entitled "Hell Drivers", also showed Arnold's Indianapolis crash.

The third picture, in addition to giving views of the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, presented scenes of the two "hell drivers" again testing Plymouths to show the extent of the automobile's endurance and the fitness and superiority of its construction. The last movie, "Three a Minute", was taken in the Dodge factory and explained how, thru the developments of modern industry, three automobiles may be well-assembled in sixty seconds.

O. F. Sikes and Judson Boardman are salesmen for the Sikeston Motor Company, and Art Clark is in charge of the repair department.

DAY NURSERY SCHOOL STARTED WEDNESDAY

The third term of Mrs. T. A. Martin's sunshine nursery school and kindergarten began at her home at 211 Dorothy Street, Wednesday morning.

A two-hour period, from 9:30 until 11:30 o'clock in the morning, is held for a month in the spring and fall, and children from the ages of 2 to 6 who are enrolled are directed in both indoor and outdoor activity.

Soon after they arrive a mid-morning luncheon of juice and crackers is served to them. Following this they do rhythm work with drums, tambourines and bells and indoor craft work with scissors and paste.

Their activity also includes outdoor singing games, nature study, and play on swings, slides and jungle gyms. In addition to this, they are told stories.

About twelve children have already been enrolled.

The Angel of Death Visited—

Funeral services for James L. Love, 80 years old, who died at his farm residence north and east of Miner Switch Tuesday afternoon, were held at the Richwood Methodist church at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, with the Rev. M. Wilson, pastor of the Dexter Baptist church, officiating. Burial was in the Morley cemetery.

Mr. Love had been in poor health since last October, when he fell from the porch of his home. Later he sustained a broken hip from a second fall, from which he never recovered.

He was born October 30, 1853, and on September 28, 1876, married Mary Lydia Minner, who survives him. A member of the Methodist Episcopal Church from early manhood, he always attended services in the communities in which he lived.

Besides his wife, he is survived by five children, Mrs. Beulah McMaster, Rosiceane, Ill.; William Lacy Love, Sikeston; Mrs. Ethel Crook, Henning, Tenn.; Mrs. Mable Stanley, Morehouse; Mrs. Addie Love, Sikeston; two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Threlkeld, Carrsville, Ky., and Mrs. Lake Murphy, Providence, Ky.; twenty-seven grandchildren and twenty-five great-grandchildren. Two children, Roy and Marie, and six grandchildren are dead. Welsh service.

Joseph Juvenal, 85 years old, collapsed and died of a heart attack at a hotel in Monett Monday, two hours after he had finished a weight-lifting exhibition before Monett high school students to illustrate that a physically fit man should neither drink nor smoke.

Students remarked that he clutched at his chest after he had lifted a weight marked 200 pounds, stating that "nobody who smokes cigaretes can do it". One student also sustained a slight cut as he held a potato in the palm of his hand for the performer to slice with a sword to demonstrate his steady nerves.

Under the name of Tommy Ryan, Juvenal had been giving similar performances for more than ten years. He appeared at the Sikeston high school in March.

SENIORS HONORED AT TEA

The high school seniors were honored Tuesday afternoon with a tea given by students of the home economics department. Faculty members were also present as guests.

A program given by pupils of the grammar and high school included a song, "Mighty Lak' a Rose", sung by the Girls' Glee Club, "Around a Gypsy Fire", by a sextet composed of Gwendolyn Duncan, Ellen Davey, Ruth Bloomfield, Lavern Canoy, Louis Ellen Tanner and Mary Emma Powell; and songs, dances and recitations by twenty students of Miss Jewell Mouser.

Decorations were in pink and white, with pink tulips and spirea and pink candles in candelabra.

Home economics students entertained members of the board of education at a dinner at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

FEARS DAMAGE FROM SCARCITY OF RAINFAL.

The weather was too cool during the first four days of the week ending Tuesday for good growth, according to Roscoe Nunn, meteorologist of the department of agriculture with offices in St. Louis.

Some slight frost damage occurred, but considering the shortage of moisture, the subnormal temperatures were rather desirable. Very helpful rain fell all over the State on April 26, but it was heaviest in the southeastern counties. Sikeston had two inches.

The situation with regard to moisture is serious, Mr. Nunn says. For the last six months the precipitation has been deficient each month for the State as a whole, the total amount averaging about two-thirds of normal. Streams are very low, and wells and springs in several districts are dry, some, it is said, for the first time in many years.

While, up to now, occasional rains and snows have been sufficient for the immediate needs of surface vegetation, the fact that there is very little reserve moisture in the subsoil causes uneasines for the future. A spell of rainless weather lasting even ten days, under the present state of depleted subsoil moisture, would hurt crops severely in most part of the State, he said.

Wheat is in fairly good condition in general. Its progress this week was poor to fair, and some deterioration occurred in very dry localities. Oats made onl yfair progress; some local damage from aphis is reported. Alfalfa, pasturs, potatoes, and gardens made slow growth. Fruits prospects are said to be good, except that peaches are scarce. The present outlook for berries is good.

FAIR TO OPEN AUGUST 11

The thirty-fourth annual Missouri State Fair will be held from August 11 to 18, inclusive, according to Charles W. Green, secretary of the fair committee. By opening on this date, Missouri will again be the first of the nation's States to begin the State fair and exposition season.

Reserve seat tickets for May 15 being sold by the seniors.

The concrete slab on Tanner Street has been poured and the placing of curb and gutter under way. This will be a convenient street to the citizens of the city who visit the High School and the activities at that place. It will connect two paved highways for cross-town traffic. There has been a lot of criticism made by some people of the selection of this street for paving by the Government without direct cost to the property owners along that street. Just who is criticised and why anyone was criticised we haven't heard. The facts in the case are these: Four hundred million dollars was appropriated by Congress for road work in the different States to help the unemployment situation. Twelve million of the fund was given to the State of Missouri to be divided as follows: Fifty per cent on the main trunk highways, 25 per cent for farm-to-market roads, 25 per cent for connections in and through cities under 75 thousand population. About $22,000 was set aside for Sikeston. The instructions were sent out that required a direct connection from a farm-to-market road entering the city with a main highway. The only farm-to-market road entering Sikeston from any direction was the spur north of the city. That being the case, Tanner Street was the only direct connection that met the requirements and was the most traveled street in the city not already paved on account of the traffic to and from the High School. Mr. Towse, engineer of Division 10 in this city, was called on for his recommendation. He recommended, if it could be done, the north spur already under contract as a farm-to-market project, the placing of a private sewer from the corner at the Robinson Lumber Co. to the ditch east of the city and the paving of Tanner Street. These were his recommendations in order as made. As the north spur was already under contract, this project was eliminated. Mr. O'Brien, a government engineer was ordered by the road department in Washington, to proceed from Omaha, Nebraska, to Sikeston, to look over the different projects and make his recommendation. This he did and after going over every section of the city, he finally recommended the paving of Tanner Street. There was no undue influence used by anyone that we have heard of to have this street paved and just why any individual should feel aggrieved at the selection of this street project is hard to understand. It is unchristian to say the least.

JAMES' VERSION

As Translated by James Huls, Jr.

News of the Town

The boys at the Town barber shop contributed Hez Willert's speech in support of art in school to the fact that Hez hasn't sold a drawing table out of his last year's gross shipment

Senator Phil I Buster made a flying trip back to the Town last week In view of the recent Clark-Long misunderstanding, we quote the Senator: "With such carryings on in the Senate, the day will come when senators will be solicited with that war-time slogan 'Work or Fight'."

Advertisement—I wish to announce that my fish pond will be thoroughly examined each day and neighborhood mothers will oblige Mrs. Van Itty by calling for their children between five and six P. M.

The bannister on the Town Hotel stairs gave away yesterday to save the building when somebody scared Ervy Jones' filly.

With two beer parlors in the Town and not a liquor dealer the boys are having to strain their imagination to the utmost.

The Woman's Club met Friday at the home of Otto Blatz. The book discussed was "Grand Hotel". The girls seemed to get away from the bedroom sequence wherein Flamm finds the Count is dead.

Hez Willert finds the sale of field glasses very poor since the authorities disbanded the local nudist colony.

The head keeper at the insane asylum has more trials and tribulations. Only last week two squirrels jumped inside the walls. The nearest thing to a riot he has had in years.

Mrs. Van Itty will lend her uncensored copy of "Decameron Tales" to the Woman's Club for discussion next week. A long and enjoyable meeting is expected.

The kibitzers about the Town are having a hard time since the boys at the barber shop have started playing chess. None of the kibitzers understand the game well enough to butt in.

A young couple in the Town are trying very hard to get the Rev. Divinny ordained . . . as he married them about a year ago . . . and the law mentions something on that line . . and they didn't find out about it until recently . . if the Rev. keeps on with such work the Town Board will start planting palm trees, raising cocoanut, etc., to give it more of that South Sea atmosphere.

"MORMON" CRICKETS AGAIN THREATEN CROPS IN IDAHO

Boise, Idaho, April 30.—The devastating "Mormon" crickets, which in 1848 threatened first colonists in Utah with starvation, have appeared in several spots in Southern Idaho to carry on the destruction they started last year.

Black creatures two inches long when full grown, they eat everything in sight, including their own young or injured. When banded together they have mastered almost every device set up against them except tin fences and poison dust. Packed in almost solid phalanxes, they move toward cultivated fields and their eating sounds like wind blowing constantly among the leaves.

Desperate Mormon settlers, from whose experience with them the insects get their name, tried every device available but lacked poison or tin in sufficient quantities. The Latter Day Saint's history credits sea gulls from islands in the Great Salt Lake with saving them from starvation. The sea gulls swarmed in by thousands, gorged on the crickets and carried them to water courses or to the salty lake, and there disgorged them. A monument near the Salt Lake Temple now commemorates the event.

WOMAN'S CUB TO MEET AT MRS. A. W. SWACKER'S

Members of the Sikeston Woman's Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. W. Swacker for a mothers' tea. Mrs. J. M. Massengill is in charge of the program, which will include numbers in honor and praise of mothers. The club had originally intended to meet at the home of Mrs. Jennie Sikes.

By ANN PAGE

STRAWBERRIES are so plentiful that they are being sold at little greater cost than in the height of their summer season. Enjoy this winter treat while it lasts.

California navel oranges are at the height of their short season and they are particularly delicious to eat out of hand or in salads or desserts. For breakfast juice, Florida oranges are fine. Grapefruit continue plentiful.

Spinach and green beans are abundant and cheap. Broccoli though fine and inexpensive is not being used so much as it was. Cauliflower and new cabbage are cheap. Peas continue plentiful and good. Beets and carrots are particularly economical.

With Lent in the near future, favorite meat dishes should be enjoyed now though well cooked and seasoned fish is equally good.

The Quaker Maid suggests the following menus for your Sunday dinner.

Low Cost Dinner

Pan-browned Chopped Beef
Mashed Potatoes
Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Vanilla Junket with Preserves
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Chicken Pie with Biscuit Crust
Baked Sweet Potatoes or Yams
Buttered Broccoli
Hot Biscuits Butter
Strawberry Whip with Crushed Strawberries
Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Tomato Juice Cocktail
Baked Smoked Ham or Roast Chicken
Mashed Potatoes Buttered Broccoli
Grapefruit and Orange Salad
Rolls and Butter
Fresh Strawberry Ice Cream
Coffee Milk

CHAPTER III

FOREWORD

Mary, the American bride of brilliant young Lord Rexford is happy in her new home and she and her husband love each other devotedly, although at times he warns her that her new English relatives and friends may not understand her humorous remarks. They are both overjoyed when a daughter, Pamela, is born to them.

On their fifth wedding anniversary, Mary told herself that their marriage had been a success. That she and Philip still loved each other deeply there was no question. Pamela was a charming child and they both idolized her. Lord Rexford was growing in importance and fame and she was proud of him. But—it was silly perhaps, to dwell on such a thing — there were times when she almost resented his absorption in his work. It was not that she was a neglected wife, but she loved him so much she would have liked to share in everything which concerned him. He was inclined, she felt, to consider her only as a beloved wife, a devoted mother, a charming hostess.

"This is ridiculous" she said to herself. "I suppose every woman who knows me, envies me my happy lot."

It was a few days later that Philip told her he must go to America on an important commission. She took it for granted that she was to go with him. She had not been to America since her marriage — it was still in a way "home" to her —and she loved to travel. It seemed it had never occurred to her husband to take her, or that she would expect to go. When she told him she wanted to go, there were good reasons he pointed out, for his objections. It was to a hurried trip, going from place to place; it would be foolish to take Pamela and she should not be left with servants and nurses; it would be too tiring for Mary. She was hurt as well as disappointed, but she did not press the matter.

Mary told herself that their marriage had been a success.

The whole story of their life might have been different if Lady Hetty Riversleigh had not arrived in London the day before Lord Rexford was to sail for America. She was his aunt and what is known as a "character." Her social position was secure because of her birth and breeding, and she was very rich, but her greatest delight was to shock everyone by her unconventional conduct and outspoken remarks. She lived on the Riviera because as she told everyone (especially English people) she loathed England and found English people stuffy and stupid. Secretly she may have been proud of Philip but when he was mentioned she called him an unsufferable prig or something like that. One hour after they arrived in London, she informed her secretary that she couldn't stand it — they would return the next day to Cannes.

"I haven't been here for seven years and I was a fool to come at all. I'm not going to see any of the family — if they want to see me, they can come to a decent place to see me. Except Philip—and I don't care about him but I hear this American wife of his has some ginger to her — though she can't be very amusing or she'd never have married such a bore as he is. Still I like Americans — they always give me a laugh or two."

In vain did the secretary remind her that she had ordered him to close the Villa. They would go to the Carlton then. She was in high humor and the secretary was in despair as they set out for the Rexford mansion in Grosvenor Square.

Mary's greeting delighted her.

"Aunt Hetty! she exclaimed. "At last! I've waited five years to see what I'm like."

"What is she talking about" Lady Hetty asked Philip. "I knew I'd laugh. This is delightful."

"Well," Mary explained, "Philip's relatives always say: 'How you remind me of Aunt Hetty' — and between you and me it doesn't always sound like a compliment."

Lady Hetty roared with laughter.

"How do you stand it here, Mary? I go to pieces in London."

"One can get a little stuffy here" conceded Mary.

Philip who had been talking with David Fenwick, his secretary had not heard this conversation. He looked at his watch anxiously and said he must leave in a few minutes as he had little time to catch the boat train.

"I'm sorry to lose you just as I've found you" said Lady Hetty to Mary.

"Oh, I'm not going" said Mary. "I'm not to go to the boat even to see him off. Would you believe that once he got off a boat just as it was sailing because he simply couldn't sail without me—and now he won't even take me on a boat with him?"

"This is strictly a business trip" said Philip.

"I know that" said Mary. "But make me a part of the business. I've not forgotten my stenography and you're always overworking Fenwick."

"All of which means just what?" asked Lord Rexford.

"That joke didn't go very well, did it?" Mary said in a strange voice to Lady Hetty.

"Was it a joke" the older woman said gently. "I thought you were very serious."

"I was" said Mary half under her breath.

Philip was ready to leave. Mary followed him to the hall for a farewell alone. They held each other in a long embrace, he murmured over and over that he loved her, that he would be home soon, that he would telephone her often. Then he was gone and Mary went back to Aunt Hetty. She rang for a servant.

"Turn on all the lights — build up the fire — it is chilly here. And how about some champagne, Aunt Hetty?"

"Never was a better suggestion" answered the older woman. Then when the servant had left, she gave Mary a long, knowing look. All Mary's reserve went down before it.

"I love him" she said. "And he was very much in love with me."

"And still is?"

"Sometimes I wonder. Oh I've nothing to complain of. I'm not the neglected wife. I know there is no other woman in the world as far as Philip goes. It's just that I don't seem to amuse him any more — he's like the conductor of an orchestra in a theatre, who doesn't laugh at the poor comedian's jokes any more. I say something I think is funny and he doesn't laugh and I get all muddled up. Then I want to cry more than I want to laugh. I've developed an unconscious fear of displeasing him."

"Hurrah for you for admitting it" said Lady Hetty. "Because I see a great light. I'm taking you off to Cannes with me."

"But—"

"Silence," roared Lady Hetty. "You are one of us gay ones of the earth — at least you were. If you go on this way, you won't be gay or anything else — you'll just go to seed. It's the best thing that could have happened, Philip's going away like this." She went over to the bell rope and when the servant answered, ordered him to send Lady Mary's maid at once.

"Tell her what you want packed" she said. "I won't take any 'no' from you. I'll put off going until tomorrow but no longer. That will give you time to give orders about the house and Pamela — and not enough to think up any objections to going. We're off to the sunny Riviera. And you're going to have the time of your life."

She did not know she was telling the truth — but that the time was to be of a kind she would never have imagined in her wildest dreams.

APOLLO GROUP GIVES DISTINCTIVE PROGRAM

The co-operation of the small children, young women, soloists, and the organist and of members of the ways and means committee of the Apollo group who sponsored, planned and worked, produced a beautiful and dignified performance which was given Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church, here.

The program consisted of a Tom Thumb Wedding and a Pageant of Brides, both executed with professional skill. The church itself was appropriately decorated. On the backs of pews bordering the two main aisles were hung white ribbons which held sprays of spirea, and on the aisles and the improvised platform in the front of the church was laid white cloth.

The platform was banked with vases of spirea, and at the back was a white lattice on which were woven more sprays of spirea. White candles in candelabra stood on either side in the rear.

Following a slight temperamental outburst, the leading lady of the Tom Thumb wedding refused to appear and had to be replaced by Little Betty Schivel. The standard bearers, bridesmaids, groomsmen and the principals, the best man and maid of honor, the flower girl, the ring bearer, the mniister, and the bridegroom, all splendidly acted their parts thruout the procession and the ceremony

Before the wedding, Mrs. Ralph Anderson, organist, played the "Gavotte" from Mignon and Billy Anderson sang the "Wedding of the Painted Doll".

Following this part of the program, the pageant of brides was given while J. N. Ross announced each performer and told of each dress worn. A detailed outline of this pageant is given below.

SLAIN DURING ARGUMENT

Epps Payne, a negro, was placed in the Charleston jail after he had shot and killed John F. Forlks, another negro, on the Frank plantation in the Dorena community south of Charleston Thursday. Officers who arrested him said that the slaying followed an argument over a woman.

The Russell-Bradley Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet Tuesday night with Miss Lena Matthews. Mrs. Tanner Dye and Mrs. Wilbur Ensor, hostesses.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR HANNIBAL CHILD HELD MONDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, 2 o'clock, at the Hannibal Assembly of God Church for Bobby Jeane, 6½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hartle of that city, who died Saturday night at 8 o'clock of complication of diseases, the pastor of the church conducting the services. Burial was in the Hannibal Cemetery.

Little Bobby Jean had been ill for the past three weeks, first having whooping cough, then the measles and finally developing pneumonia. Besides his parents, he is survived by one sister, Wanda Lee, eighteen months old, who is now suffering from the same diseases which have developed into double pneumonia, and whose condition is reported to be critical

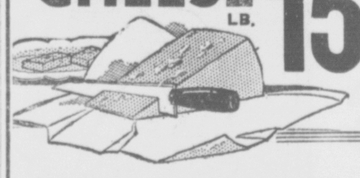

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rayburn and children and the former's brother, Lloyd, of this city, both Mr Rayburns being brothers of Mrs. Hartle, attended the funeral services.

We wonder where Deacon Will Hayes was when the George White Scandal film was presented for his o. k. The "Nasty Man" song was nasty all right, and the scene of the man hunting for the mail order catalog in the night was worse. There were a lot of bully looking nearly naked females slithering and twisting around, that were entertaining, and Cliff Edwards' Henry VIIIth was o. k. The Dog Song could have been placed on the retired list as no one ever saw that many dogs together without fighting or something.

DESPONDENT, KILLS SELF

Because he was despondent and in ill health, H. L. Ramsey, 47 years old, shot himself to death at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at his home one mile east of East Prairie.

Walking about 100 yards from his house into a pasture, he sent a bullet through the top of his head. Coroner Paul Hackney, who was at his bedside before he died, found a note, explaining the action, left by Ramsey.

Surviving him are a wife and an 8-year-old son, both of whom were in the house at the time of the shooting. At one time Ramsey was night marshal of East Prairie for four years.

PUPILS ENTERTAIN PARENTS WITH PROGRAM

Group number by boys, "Soldier Boys", led by Joe Dye

Recitation, "Grown Up Land"—Elizabeth Ann Baker

Group number, "School Days", led by Sue Tanner, Mary Jane Cummins, Billy Anderson and Tommy Roberts

Song, "Under the Old Apple Tree"—Entire group

May Day Roundelay—song and dance by entire group

Accompanists were Evelyn Klein and Carolyn Weltecke.

All the numbers showed there had been untiring work done by the teacher and pupils and was much enjoyed by all present.

BEAUTY CONTEST TO BE HELD AT THE MALONE

A beauty contest in which a young woman will be chosen to represent Sikeston at the Ozarks Mardi Gras in Poplar Bluff May 26, will be held at the Malone Theatre, probably on May 15. It will be staged between the first and second showing of a regular moving, and a decision will be made immediately.

Entrants, who will appear first in evening dress and then in bathing suits, will be judged by three disinterested out-of-town men to be named later. The winner will be picked on the basis of beauty alone.

To help promote this competition, John Powell, general chairman for Sikeston's activity in the Ozark festival, has asked the merchants to sponsor, without any cost to themselves, some young woman. They will not even be expected to furnish any wearing apparel unless they so desire, but they are urged to select a girl immediately and to notify Leon Gmeiner, who is in charge of arrangements, of their choice.

At Poplar Bluff, the winner of Sikeston's contest will compete with other entrnats from this district for the title of Miss Southeast Missouri. Miss Poplar Bluff will not enter the competition, but will act as hostess at the crowning, which will take place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of May 26.

The prize for the successful candidate will be a week's trip to the World's Fair in Chicago with all expenses paid and a chance to compete in an annual nation-wide contest at Atlantic City, N. J., in September, when Miss America will be named.

Jungle Cats New Fair Thrill

Greatest animal act in history free to visitors to Chicago's new World's Fair which opens May 26. The great cat balances on the huge ball under the watchful eye of trainer Allen King, as part of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana exhibit this summer, featuring thirty-three lions, tigers and pumas in a single act. This is only one of 84 miles of free exhibits. Other features will be fifteen reproductions of actual foreign villages giving Expesition-goers a world tour right on the Fair grounds. New low rail and bus rates to the Fair have been announced. There is ample parking space for auto tourists.

NEW UTILITIES HEAD APPOINTED FOR S. E. MO.

Harry B. Newman, manager of the Missouri Utilities Company offices in Cape Girardeau, has been named manager of the concern's entire holdings in Southeast Missouri.

T. A. Martin, who for numerous years has been manager of the Sikeston district, will officially become an engineering assistant to Mr. Newman, but his work will be the same as that which he has done previously.

Under a new operating plan, decentralization of the St. Louis office will be made and company managers will have more responsibility.

In the position of district manager, Mr. Newman will have complete supervision over the company operations in twenty-nine Southeast Missouri towns served by the Missouri Utilities organization.

DRIVE STARTS FOR SUNDAY BALL CLUB

A drive to raise $500 for suits and equipment for a Sunday baseball team was started Thursday morning by men chosen to direct the campaign at a meeting of baseball fans held at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the offices of the Southeastern Missouri Telephone Company here.

It is hoped that some national concerns will contribute as well as town merchants. The names of those who give substantial donations may possibly be put on the backs of the suits.

N. E. Fuchs was elected president of a Sikeston baseball club for Sunday at this meeting. The following men were also elected: Vice-president, Ted Kirby; secretary-treasurer, E. F. Schorle; directors, Leon Gmeiner, Charles French and M. M. Beck. Three men, M. M. Beck, Milburn Arbaugh and Leon Gmeiner, were also chosen as members of a finance committee, to serve with the officers.

Men present at Wednesday's meeting spoke favorably of joining a Southeast Missouri baseball league if it is formed, and officers and fans met Thursday night with representatives of other towns to discuss the possibility of organizing such a league.

It is hoped that Sikeston will be able to have a superior team which will draw large crowds to the games. The baseball park will retain 10 per cent of all gate receipts for use in keeping the grounds in good condition.

BODY OF FARMER FOUND

The body of Millard Roark, 55-year-old farmer, who lived two and a half miles east of Malden, was found near his automobile parked on a road just north of Malden at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

It is thought Roark died at about 8:30 the night before after a heart attack. Apparently his car stalled in deep sand on a country road, which leads to his farm home and as he attempted to crank the motor he suffered a stroke.

SIMPSON OIL COMPANY CAPE TEAM ON SUNDAY

The Simpson Oil Company baseball team, which is a member of the Sikeston Municipal League, will meet the 75 Million Club of Cape Girardeau for a game here at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Admission will be 25 cents.

The team, managed by E. A. Bandy, is composed of the following players: Edgar Byrd, Venson Jones, Jack Lancaster, Raymond Bandy, J. W. Law, Paul Engram, Glen Schaefer, Charles Eaker, Harry Stacy, Bryant Briggs and J. W. Cox.

The Apollo Group will hold a business meeting this afternoon Friday) at the home of Mrs. H. C. Blanton. At this time plans will be finished for the convention of the Ninth District Federation of Music Clubs to be held here Saturday in the Methodist church. The public is invited to attend the afternoon meeting.

Billy Comer, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Comer, who has been ill for two weeks with bright's disease, is slowly regaining his health.

"Sensational Plans for Selling"

"High Pressure Salesmanship"

"New Plans for the New Deal"

All the above and a lot of other propaganda is being offered retailers at "so much per", the idea being to pass the cost on to Mr. and Mrs. Consumer. By sifting the whole "mess" down, merchants will find no new discovery that can take the place of common honesty, horse sense, energy and courtesy in running a store. We shall therefore stick to fundamentals, taking on only such frills as are entertaining but harmless to our customers and their pocketbooks.

Car Load Purchase

A full car load of Moore's stoves will be unloaded within a day or two. Moore's name on a range is a guarantee of high quality at reasonable cost and we make that pledge good. Good cooks will like these new models because they are distinctly different in appearance—in fact, the best and prettiest for the money we have ever assembled. Time payments are available for all who have reasonable income.

$9.50 Per Set

Have you a small bedroom that needs new floor covering? If so, we suggest a set of imported chenilled rag rugs consisting of one 4-6x7-6 and two small ones of same pattern—all for $9.50. We will not have more of this bargain so please come at once.

Farm Women Like Good Ones

High grade Monarch ranges with high closets and reservoirs, particularly suitable for farm use, may be bought and settled for after wheat or melon crops are sold. No higher quality ranges are made by any firm.

Thanks to Sikeston Territory

April sales broke our record for any one month since we have been in Sikeston and we are of course grateful for the business. Our sales people had a good part in the result—all of them hustling every minute. Dependable merchandise suited to this section—all bearing our 100% guarantee also helped. If there is one dissatisfied customer, we do not know about it and if any just complaint turns up later, we are here to make good.

House Cleaners Take Notice

Our store arrangement has been changed around to accommodate ladies who are shopping for spring goods. Florence ranges, porch gliders, refrigerators, both ice and Frigidaires, floor coverings and other seasonable goods are easily examined and all priced in plain figures for installment sales. If all cash is paid, we give reasonable discounts.

Frigidaires Going Strong

In case some reader may be curious to know about Frigidaire sales in Sikeston, we are pleased to report that April sales were 450% ahead of April sales last year on another brand of electric refrigerators. This means a good deal more than good salesmanship. It signifies the unquestioned leadership of the Frigidaire line for 1934. There is a model for every purse—and a good one.

What Is "Borax" Furniture Store?

That question has been asked several times lately and while we have a pretty good idea as to just what the term "Borax" means, we are going to look it up carefully and may at some future time give our patrons a proper definition of it, relating to the furniture trade.

LOCAL GOLFERS BEAT CHARLESTON 50 TO 2

Sikeston golfers treated their Charleston guests rather roughly in their match tournament held on the local club grounds Sunday afternoon. The final score was 50 to 2. Eighteen players were matched from each of the clubs, and only two points were lost by the Sikeston sharp shooters during the afternoon. Each of the eighteen Sikeston golfers won his match. The scores were as follows:

Sikeston
O. Lumsden	69
S. Lee	69
H. Alexander	73
Pete Medley	78
L. Bowman	75
G. W. Kirk	79

Lumsden and Lee, Sikeston's junior golf flashes, played the local course in one stroke over par, which is unusually good golf for this early in the season.

Poplar Bluff calls at the local grounds this next Sunday for the second match of the Sikeston club's season. This will be a close match as Poplar Bluff has a strong club. Sikeston and the Bluff tied at the end of the season last year, but Sikeston won in the play off match, thereby gaining the championship of the league. The Bluff lost a close match to Dexter, April 22, by just one point, which is very much in the local club's favor—and quite a handicap for the Bluff golfers to overcome.

Charleston has now defeated Kennett; Dexter, Poplar Bluff; Sikeston, Charleston; and Poplar Bluff, Kennett. The standing of the Southeast Missouri league clubs is as follows:

Sikeston	1	0
Dexter	1	0
Charleston	1	1
Poplar Bluff	1	1

COUNTY AND STATE FARM PRICES

Farm prices in Scott County comparing April, 1934 with April, 1933 as reported by buyers and dealers to the Missouri section of the U S. Division of Crop & Livestock Estimates shows corn at 43 cents per bushel against 30 cents in April, 1933. Wheat 76 cents compared with 53. Oats 45 against 21 cents for April, 1933. The price of eggs for this April was 11 cents against 9 cents per dozen, middle of April, 1933. Butterfat was 17 cents per pound compared with an average of 15 in April last year.

G. Manning Short, a farmer who lives near Jackson, possesses a strange stone watering trough, which he found on a farm near Allenville and moved to his own place only with great difficulty.

Chiselled from sandstone, it is eight feet long, approximately thirty inches deep, and of a corresponding width. It weighs several thousand pounds and bears on one end the date, 1852. After numerous inquiries, Short learned that the trough was probably made from Cape Girardeau sandstone by slaves.

Fair Visitors to Explore 'Lost River'

Visitors to the new World's Fair which opens in Chicago May 26 will float, in a boat pushed by a prehistoric man, down the "Lost River" through the world of a million years ago in this new exposition feature located on the new Beach Midway. This is one of all the new, startling features offered to Fair visitors this summer, at low cost. The prehistoric monsters reproduced will be animated, in some cases by as many as sixteen motors. They will move, hiss and roar. There are ample tourist accommodations and parking space adjacent to the Fair.

After Bridge Snacks

HAVE YOU noticed during recent months that party menus everywhere are much simpler? Foods that are ready before guests arrive or are of the "everyone prepare it yourself" variety—it's all a part of the very general movement toward less elaborate meals of all types. It's smart to do things simply! Hostesses everywhere welcome these new fashioned less intricate party menus that mean so little preparation and fuss at serving time. There is no feeling of effort—all of which leads to informality and general enjoyment. Here are several suggestions for after bridge bites you will enjoy for winter parties. Very unassuming—all of them—but fashionable.

Molded Vegetable Salad*
Crackers spread with Roquefort Cheese or other cheese
Ripe Mission Olives
Celery stuffed with Peanut Butter and Chili Sauce
Coffee
Homemade Candy

In this menu place everything on luncheon plate, except candy and coffee.

Consommé (ready-to-serve) Crackers
Sweet Gherkins
Veal Salad* Hot Rolls
Coffee Mints

Frozen Tuna Fish Salad* Hot Potato Chips
Buttered Cloverleaf Rolls
Coffee
Homemade Candy

(*) Indicates recipes given below.

Molded Vegetable Salad—Soak 1 tablespoon gelatin in ¼ cup cold water five minutes and dissolve in ½ cup boiling water. Add 3 tablespoons Pure Vinegar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ cup diced celery, 1 cup cooked peas and 1 cup shredded cabbage, and mix thoroughly. Turn into a square pan, chill, and cut into squares. Serve in nests of lettuce with Mayonnaise Dressing.

Veal Salad—Place 3 pounds of veal (from the shoulder) in a cooking pan. Almost cover with water, add several stalks of celery, onion, 1 tablespoon salt, pepper and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce, and cook slowly until the meat is tender. Allow the meat to cool in the broth in which it has been cooked. Cut meat in cubes, add an equal amount of diced celery and ¼ cup Stuffed Spanish Olives, sliced. Mix, sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste, and add ½ teaspoon sugar. Moisten with Mayonnaise Dressing. Place in nests of lettuce; garnish with slices of hard cooked egg and Stuffed Olive.

Frozen Tuna Fish Salad—Soak 2 teaspoons plain gelatin in 6 tablespoons cold water and dissolve over boiling water. Add 2 cups flaked tuna fish (or other sea food), 2/3 cup Tomato Ketchup, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce, 3 tablespoons Pure-Cider Vinegar, 1 teaspoon Evaporated Horseradish, soaked 10 minutes in 1 tablespoon cold water, ¾ teaspoon salt and ½ cup Mayonnaise Dressing. Mix gently. Pour into 2 trays of automatic refrigerator and allow to freeze, stirring once during freezing process. Cut into ½ inch squares and serve on slices of tomato on nests of lettuce. Use three slices of tomato for each salad and place a square on each slice. Garnish with Mayonnaise Dressing and serve. Tiny mounds of cole slaw may be used in place of the tomato slices. Serves 6.

By ANN PAGE

MARKETING continues to be a pleasure so long as there is a wide choice of foods at reasonable or low cost. This is particularly true of fresh fruits and vegetables at this time but also of meat, fish, eggs, cheese and butter as well. Most staples are still moderately priced although they have felt the upward trend of prices.

Among the vegetables the cabbage family is outstanding in quality and price. Lettuce and celery are plentiful and cheap. Green beans are not as fine as they have been. Spinach is plentiful.

California oranges are very attractive in quality and price. Grapefruit continues to deserve superlatives. Bananas are improving in quality with no change in price. Strawberries are plentiful and low priced.

The Quaker Maid suggests the following Sunday Dinner menus.

Low Cost Dinner

Roast Pork Browned Potatoes
Creamed Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Apple Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Pot Roast of Beef with Vegetables (Potatoes, Onions, Carrots, Turnips)
Celery Olives
Bread and Butter
Orange Gelatin Dessert
Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Orange, Banana and Strawberry Cup
Roast Beef Browned Potatoes
Creamed Spinach
Lettuce Peanut Butter Dressing
Rolls and Butter
Cottage Pudding Vanilla Sauce
Coffee Milk

LIVELY DIVORCE BUSINESS DONE BY MEXICAN JUDGE

Since becoming judge of the Juarez, Mexico, Civil Court nineteen months ago, Ignacio Guiterrez Zamora has granted approximately 2800 divorce decrees to American couples.

Judge Guiterrez believes that the Chihuahua divorce law, which provides quick and easy decrees for dissatisfied persons, is the "salvation" for many American couples who cannot obtain freedom under complicated American laws.

"In Mexico, a marriage ceremony is just a civil contract, and should be broken when both parties no longer wish to observe its provisions".

The judge disapproves of divorce for movie actresses because, he thinks, some of them get decrees only for notoriety. "I am opposed to such practices", he added.

Clerk of the County Court, Scott County, Missouri.

HOMESTEAD PLAN TO BE PERFECTED SOON

During the early part of this month lands for subsistence homestead projects in Missouri will be secured. Officials of the State planning board are considering three separate schemes under which they may effect their project.

In the six national forests in the State are tracts too valuable for forest unit uses. They would serve a much better purpose in this economic setup. Numerous people could have homes within the forest areas if this land were bought. There, in fertile soil, they could grow a limited crop and work at jobs provided for them in the national forests.

The second plan would embrace the purchase of submarginal lands. On them would be located forest units and small-tract homesteads. There, too, inhabitants would be given seasonal employment in the forests.

The last plan would involve the retirement of submarginal land, particularly in northern Missouri. Tracts, ranging from forty acres upward and located in many sections of the State would be bought and used for reforestration and soil erosion control projects. Besides, they would serve as small parks for recreational use and for game preserves. In addition to providing employment, this plan would permanently remove from cultivation much desirable land.

All purchases in the State will be made from a special fund of $25,000,000 allotted to the Department of the Interior for this purpose. It is thought that possibly as many as 5000 small tracts and several thousand acres in the forests will be bought for subsistence homesteads.

Proposed Amendment to the Constitution of Missouri

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 1.

Adding Section 44d to Article IV.

(Submitted by the General Assembly.)

Proposed amendment authorizing $10,000,000 bond issue of State of Missouri for construction of buildings and additions to and repairing buildings at penal and eleemosynary institutions.

JOINT AND CONCURRENT RESOLUTION submitting to the qualified voters of the State of Missouri an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of Missouri, to authorize the General Assembly to contract a debt or liability on behalf of the State of Missouri, and to issue bonds of the State of Missouri to an amount not exceeding Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000) for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding, or repairing, remodeling and rebuilding state buildings and properties at all or any of the eleemosynary or penal institutions of this state, for building additions thereto, and additional buildings where necessary, to be submitted to the voters at the next general election after the adoption of this resolution or at a special election to be called, at the discretion of the Governor, prior thereto.

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that:

At the general election to be held on the Tuesday next following the first Monday in November, 1934, or at a special election to be called by the Governor, in his discretion, prior to such general election, there shall be submitted to the electors of this State, for their approval or rejection, an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Missouri, adding to Article IV thereof, between Section 44c and Section 45, a new section to be known as Section 44d, to read as follows:

Section 44d. In addition to the exceptions made in Sections 44, 44a, 44b and 44c, the General Assembly shall have power to contract or to authorize the contracting of a debt or liability on behalf of the State and to issue bonds or other evidences of indebtedness therefor, not exceeding in the aggregate Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000), for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding, or of repairing, remodeling and rebuilding State buildings and properties at all or any of the eleemosynary or penal institutions of this State, for building additions thereto and additional buildings where necessary; such bonds to bear interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum (5%) per annum, payable semi-annually, and maturing not later than thirty-five (35) years from their date. Said bonds shall be issued by the State Board of Fund Commissioners in such amounts, from time to time, as may be necessary to carry on the building program herein provided for. The proceeds of the sale or sales of any bonds issued hereunder, together with any funds granted by or otherwise received from any agency of the Federal Government in aid of the purposes herein specified, shall be paid into the state treasury and be credited to a fund to be designated the "State Building Fund," and shall thereupon stand appropriated, without legislative action, for said purposes and for the payment of all expenses incidental thereto.

The proceeds of the sale of the Ten Million Dollars ($10,000,000) of bonds herein authorized shall be expended for the purpose of repairing, remodeling or rebuilding any of the public buildings of the State of Missouri devoted to eleemosynary and penal purposes, and for building additions thereto, and additional buildings where necessary.

The said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid out of the State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund, which is hereby created and which fund is to be provided by the levy and collection of a direct annual tax upon all taxable property within the State and from the levy and collection of any special tax or taxes which may be authorized by the General Assembly and by it directed to be applied to the payment of interest and maturing principal of said bonds. If at any time after the issuance of any of the said bonds it shall become apparent to the State Auditor that there will not be sufficient monies in said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund for the payment of the principal and interest maturing and accruing on said bonds during the next succeeding calendar year, it shall be the duty of the State Auditor, annually, on or before the first day of July, to determine the rate of taxation necessary to be levied upon all taxable property within the State to raise the amount of money needed for that year to pay the principal and interest of said bonds maturing and accruing in the next succeeding year, taking into consideration available funds, delinquencies and costs of collection. And the Auditor shall annually certify the rate of taxation so determined, to the clerk of the county court of each county, and to the assessor or other officer in the City of St. Louis, whose duty it shall be to make up and certify the tax books wherein are extended the ad valorem state taxes. It shall be the duty of said clerks and the said assessor or other proper officer in the City of St. Louis to extend upon the tax books the taxes to be collected, and to certify the same to the collectors of the revenue of their respective counties and of the City of St. Louis, who shall collect such taxes at the same time and in the same manner and by the same means as are now or may hereafter be provided by law for the collection of state and county taxes, and pay the same into the state treasury. All funds paid into the State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund shall be and stand appropriated without legislative action to the payment of principal and interest of the said bonds, there to remain until paid out in discharge of the principal of said bonds and the interest accruing thereon, and no part of said fund shall be used for any other purpose so long as any of the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon shall be unpaid. If at any time the balance in said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund should be insufficient to pay accruing interest or maturing principal of said bonds, the Board of Fund Commissioners shall direct the State Auditor and the State Treasurer to transfer on their books from the State Revenue Fund to said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund the sum required for said purposes, or either of them, and such sum so transferred shall be reimbursed to the State Revenue Fund whenever there may be a balance in the said State Building Bond Interest and Sinking Fund in excess of the amount which may then be needed to meet the accruing interest and maturing principal of the said bonds during one year next succeeding.

Those institutions of the State of Missouri to which any of the proceeds of the sale of said bonds may be devoted are those eleemosynary and penal institutions whose buildings are in need of repair or remodeling or in need of being rebuilt or in need of additions or additional buildings.

The General Assembly shall enact such laws as may be necessary to carry this amendment into effect.

State of Missouri, } ss.
Department of State.

I, Dwight H. Brown, Secretary of State of the State of Missouri, hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and complete copy of a Joint and Concurrent Resolution of the Fifty-seventh General Assembly (Extra Session), of the State of Missouri of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Missouri; to be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Missouri at the special election called by the Governor, to be held on May 16, 1934.

In testimony whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Missouri. Done at office in the City of Jefferson, this 22nd day of March, A. D. 1934.

FISHING IN CANADA

"It is there that we are going with our rods and reels and traces,
To a silent, smoky Indian that we know—
To a couch of new-pulled hemlock with the starlight on our faces,
For the Red Gods call us out and we must go!"

RUDYARD KIPLING'S lines are brought to mind by a booklet entitled "Sport Fishing in Canada" issued by the National Parks of Canada, Department of the Interior, Ottawa. This publication is a timely and welcome handbook on Canadian fishing waters, for with the advent of spring there comes to the angler an irresistible call from the lakes and rivers, the woods, and the trails. In fancy he feels the whip of rod, hears the hum of singing reel, and sees his drifting canoe with a dusky Indian in the stern being propelled slowly to a camp beneath the stars.

For many years thousands of fishermen from all over America have visited old and favoured fishing locations in Canada. More recently the extension of railways and the construction of new motor roads have placed hitherto inaccessible fishing waters within easy reach of the great centres of population. In these unspoiled waters from the Atlantic to the Pacific the angler will find unexcelled sport for many varieties of game fish. There is in Canada game fish for every class of angler. There are the Atlantic, tyee, and coho salmon and the numerous species of the trout family; there is that knight in bronze armour, the bass; that warrior which lurks amidst the lily pads, the maskinonge; the ubiquitous pike; the toothsome pickerel; the mighty tuna and sword fish; and other sporting varieties.

All these species are not found in the same waters, nor even in the same provinces, but each has its range somewhere in Canada. The open seasons on the various species differ according to local conditions, and parties contemplating a trip should secure all available information in advance, as careful planning adds greatly to the success and enjoyment of a holiday.

"Sport Fishing in Canada" is interesting, it is free, and will be found most useful to the fisherman now preparing his "rods and reels and traces" for the coming vacation season.

CAIRO MEN OFFER FREE BRIDGE TRANSPORTATION

In an effort to reach the trade of Southeast Missouri, the retail merchants of Cairo will conduct an experiment for one month by allowing customers to Cairo a free transportation over the Mississippi river bridge on one day each week, probably Saturday.

Believing that the bridge toll has kept persons of this section from going to Cairo to shop, the Cairo merchants are trying to discover if business can be secured again. If their experiment is successful, it will be made permanent and possibly extended to include more days a week than one.

To tell Southeast Missouri resident of their offers the Cairo merchants are running advertisements in The Standard, beginning this week.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy shown us in our late sad hour of bereavement in the loss of our beloved daughter and sister, Hazel Beck, and for their many beautiful floral offerings We especially thank Rev. C. F. Transue of the Nazarene church for his kind and consoling words, the pallbearers, the flower girls, the pianist, the soloist and the funeral director, H J. Welsh, for his kind and efficient service.

MISS MAUDE HERRING HONORED AT SHOWER

Miss Maude Herring. who resigned this year as principal of the grammar school, was honored Monday evening with a surprise miscellaneous shower given by Miss Lillian Putnam at her home on North New Madrid Street.

The guests played bridge at seven tables. First, second and third honors were won by Miss Mignon Newton, Mrs. W. W. Hinchey and Mrs. E. W. Davis, respectively. Miss Herring was awarded a guest prize, and at the conclusion of playing she was given the other three as well.

At 9 o'clock, a Western Union messenger called Miss Herring to the front door and presented her with a package containing all the gifts.

Miss Herring will be married at the end of the school term to Vance Montgomery.

Mrs. M. M. Beck, T. H. Simpson and Miss Ruth Inez Felker were in Cape Girardeau, Wednesday.

Even in winter, jelly like this can be made easily.

MOTHER, isn't there any more jelly?"

How often this plaintive question is asked in most families late each winter, after all those glasses of jellies and jams put up last summer have been eaten and the pantry shelves are rapidly becoming bare again.

However, just because the summer fruits happen to be out of season, the modern homemaker isn't stumped. She knows that jellies, jams and marmalades can be easily and rapidly made for her table by using canned, dried, and citrus fruits, or fruit juices.

With the following recipes she can have a tempting dish of new marmalade, a hillock of jelly, or a new kind of jam ready for father and the children almost in a jiffy:

Grapefruit Jelly

3 cups (1½ lbs.) juice
6½ cups (2¾ lbs.) sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin

Add juice of 4 grapefruit to grated rinds and let stand 10 minutes. Press juice through cloth.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 8 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Canned Pineapple Mint Jam

2 cups (1 lb.) prepared fruit
3½ cups (1½ lbs.) sugar
green coloring
½ bottle fruit pectin
½ to 1½ teaspoons spearmint extract

To prepare fruit, use 1 No. 2 can of pineapple. Grind or chop fine. Juice of 1 lemon may be added, if more tart jam is desired.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Add green coloring to give desired shade (use coloring which fruit acids do not fade), while mixture is coming to a boil. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Add spearmint extract according to taste. Then stir and skim by turns for just 3 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 9 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Mrs. Robert Nolan and daughter, Miss Mary, left yesterday for Jefferson City, to visit the rest of the week.

Mrs. E. N. Leech, who was operated on Monday at St. Francis Hospital, Cape Girardeau, is reported to have come out from the operation very nicely, had a fairly good day Wednesday, and rested good that night.

Miss Ann Beck, who has visited the past two weeks at Centralia and Columbia, is expected home, Sunday.

Those who attended the private dance given at the Hotel Halliday in Cairo, Sunday night, were: Mr. and Mrs. L. Graber, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Shainberg, Mr. and Mrs. L. Shainberg, Miss Sylvia Goldstein and Miss Fannye Becker, Sikeston; Mr. and Mrs. J. Shainberg, Miss Gertrude Shainberg and Morse Frankle, New Madrid.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Davis returned Tuesday from Vincennes, Ind., where they had spent a week.

James Mocabee returned from St. Louis, Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by his wife. Mrs. Mocabee had been a patient at the Barnes Hospital, where she underwent an operation. She stood the trip home fine, had a good night's rest, and is improving nicely

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Conrad and children and Chester Conrad visited Mrs. Cora Conrad Wednesday night at the Southeast Missouri Hospital, Cape Girardeau. Mrs. Conrad was taken to the hospital Monday afternoon and her condition is reported very satisfactory. Dr. Wilson and wife and Miss Mary Lough of Bartlesville, Okla., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Martin last night. Today, Dr. and Mrs. Wilson will go to Louisville, Ky., to attend the derby. Miss Lough will go to Charleston for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lough.

Mrs. George Greathouse of Elko, Nev., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Jane Mills. Mrs. Greathouse's many friends are very glad to see her and trust that she will make an extended visit.

Standard, $2.00 per year.

Fat Girls! Here's A Tip For You

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses and does it SAFELY and HARMLESSLY.

In the morning take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

"It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat", and "brings that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

But be sure for your health's sake that you get Kruschen. A bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but little. You can always get Kruschen at Galloway's or White's Drug Stores and money back if not satisfied with results after first bottle.

RAISING OF FIELD CROPS ADVANCES WITH SEASON

The amount of land planted for the principal field crops will probably be less this year than in the preceding three years. Reductions are particularly marked in regard to corn and tobacco, which are both involved in the government's curtailment program.

Acreages to be put into tame hay, oats, sweet and Irish potatoes, and peanuts in land embracing parts of Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Missisippi, Kentucky, Indiana and Arkansas will probably be greater than in 1933, according to a bulletin issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

Proclamation of Mayor Calling Special City Election

WHEREAS, a vacancy now exists in the office of councilman in the third ward of the City of Sikeston, and

WHEREAS, the office of councilman is an elective office, and no general municipal election will occur within six months,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, G. W. H. Presnell, Mayor of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, in pursuance of authority vested in me by Section 6748, R. S. Mo., 1929, do hereby proclaim and call a special election to be held in said City of Sikeston on Tuesday, May 15th, 1934 for the purpose of balloting upon and electing a councilman to fill said vacancy and to represent the third ward in the City Council of said City of Sikeston for a term ending on the first said Tuesday, May 15, 1934.

The polling place for said special election shall be at the Ford Garage on West Malone Ave., in the third ward of said city, and the polls will be open for receiving votes continuously from six o'clock in the forenoon until seven o'clock in the afternoon, upon the aforeTuesday, May 15, 1934.

LITTLE AMERICA, ANTARCTICA, April 24, (via Mackay Radio). We are like an army, digging in and getting everything ready for the big battle to come. The long Antarctic night has descended upon us and all day and night we are in a deep gray shadow. Sometimes, when the sky is overcast or a storm is raging, we are in inky blackness. Most of the time, however, it is a thick, heavy gray which lets us see a dozen or so feet away. Some days and nights we have moonlight and that helps a lot. This absence of daylight is so new to me that it gives me the willies but the old-timers tell me I'll get used to it. We'll make up for it next summer when we have sunlight for months, 24-hours a day. The sun is due to pay us its next visit August 22 and will we give it a cheer!

I don't like to see seals killed but down here it is very necessary, to preserve health for us and our dogs. We have 500 seals, all frozen, some in our storehouses, the rest out on the ice several miles away—in Nature's biggest icebox. You know, we have two kinds of seals down here, the Crab-eaters and the Weddell seals, and two kinds of penguins, the little Adelie and the Emperors. The Crab-Eater seals weigh about 200 pounds when fully grown and are courageous fighters, with sharp teeth, although they can't open their mouths very wide when gobgling crustaceans and small fish. They are a neutral gray and travel over the ice like serpents. They are arrogant, active, interesting and delicious to eat, although their flesh, under the coating of fat or blubber, is very black, like all the birds and animals down here, including whales, on account of the richness of their blood. They make a funny, indescribable noise, half grunt, half moo like a cow.

The Weddell seals are much bigger, weighing 25 to 35 pounds when born, growing 50 pounds a week for the first two or three weeks, then more slowly until they reach around 500 pounds. They have no teeth but find no difficulty eating crabs and other crustaceans and fish by crushing them. They travel by wiggling along, very different from the Crab-Eaters. They are dark brown or black with bright gray spots, hair instead of fur, and make the darndest noise I ever heard—a cross between the trill of a canary and a faint moo. None of the seals down here bark like the northern seals. The Weddell seals can open their mouths prodigiously—150 degrees. And are they lazy! A few days before the sun and the seals (and all other creatures including the whales) disappeared, I ran at two seals on the bay ice, to scare them. You know the animals down here have no fear of humans, because they haven't been hunted with guns—only clubs. Well, the Crab-Eater snaked over the ice and popped into the water of an open lead. The Weddell opened one eye, looked at me scornfully, and closed it again.

I've talked with the tractor crews and the dog team men who set up our southern bases for the explorations we're going to start next spring—in October. Both groups did a marvelous job and had a horrible time doing it. Captain Innes Taylor, William Paine, Finn Ronne and Dick Black, with their dog teams, established a big food and supply base for us 180 miles south of here. You might mark that trip on your club maps, using the proper legend for the dog teams—to Latitude 81.2 South Longitude 160.5 West.

We've got a big thrill coming later this month—if we're not beset by too many storms and blizzards. The scientists have told us there will be a lot of vivid meteor showers and they have built an observatory. So now we are all waiting to observe this show to be put on by the heavenly bodies. I'll tell you all about it.

Have you and your friends joined our club yet? Why don't you get your school teachers to enroll their entire classes, as 142 other teachers have done? The club is open to everybody interested in aviation, exploration and adventure and there are no expenses whatever to members. Simply send stamped, clearly self-addressed envelope, or, in case of school teachers, the names and home addresses of self and pupils, with stamp for each, to A. C. Abele, Jr., President, Little America Aviation & Exploration Club, Hotel Lexington, 48th Street and Lexington Avenue, New York City and our big free working map of the South Pole region and membership card will be sent immediately.

Total acreage of the chief crops, including winter wheat seeded last fall and excluding cotton, is estimated at 4.9 per cent less than in 1933, and 10 per cent less than in 1932. The retarded cold weather which appeared in the latter part of March was generally favorable for agriculture since it prevented too rapid growth and development of vegetation. The accompanying snow and rain were helpful, too, especially in regions where moisture had been deficient earlier in the season.

Estimates of the probably wheat production in these south central States place the figure at 81,097,000, almost 10,000,000 more than in 1933, but less by about 4,000,000 than the 1927 to 1932 average. Preparations have been made for the corn crop although some delay was necessary because of inclement weather. By now, however, almost all seeding operations have been completed, and if government predictions are reliable there may be a yield of 269,397,000 bushels.

Except for the peach buds which suffered from late freezes in parts of Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, the outlook for fruits is generally favorable. In Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee, the 1934 crop of early strawberries is estimated at 3,165,000 crates, an increase of 64.5 per cent over last year's production. The condition of apples and early potatoes is in the main above that of 1933.

Approximately 170,000 fewer head of cattle are said to be on feed for market in this district than last year, but more than in 1932. The reason for this is tho't to be the sealing on farms of the 1933 corn crop to secure federal loans, with the result that corn prices are higher than cattle prices.

By the middle of last month a great deal of ground had been prepared for this year's tobacco crop. Tobacco plant beds were sown in late February and in the intervals of favorable weather in March, and the plants are growing and are mainly healthy, with good prospects for early development and transplanting. The total 1933 burley crop is estimated at 385,000,000 pounds, and present indications are that at the final closing of all markets, there wlil be less burley tobacco in farmers' hands than for any crop in recent fired tobacco sold in the best markets from $27 to $38.50 per cwt., years. Good to fine quality dark the highest prices of the season.

Preparations for the new cotton crop have generally been completed, and seeding has made considerable headway in the southern counties. Demand for raw cotton showed little change as contrasted with the preceding thirty days, and prices fluctuated within a relatively narrow range. The average, however, continued approximately twice as high as during the corresponding period a year and two years ago.

Some fear over the direct results of the Bankhead cotton reduction law have been expressed by executives of numerous southern industries who estimate the loss to businesses wholly or partially dependent on cotton and to the employes of these concerns in wages at nearly $90,000,000 a year. They believe, further, that the added cost to United States cotton consumers through the processing tax and through the increased price of cotton will be $373,000,000. The benefits to the cotton growers from this increased price and from government subversions will be only about $350,000,000, they think.

Without government interference the south would grow approximately 15,000,000 bales of cotton annually and would try to sell it at a price of at least 15 cents a pound. The Bankhead bill limited the crop to 10,000,000.

American mills use only about 6,000,000 bales annually, and all production above that must be exported if it is not to become a surplus which will lower the price and make cotton growing unprofitable.

It is thought that on the most efficient plantations, cotton may be raised and picked for 6 cents a pound, but the cost to most producers exceeds that. In recent years the amount of American cotton consumed has decreased while that of foreign cotton hsa increased. This situation was produced, it is thought, by a refusal of foreign nations to buy in the United States because of the tariff which bars their goods from our country.

Cotton executives and economists emphasize it is not the domestic but the export cotton, which brings new money to the cotton growing south, that is being reduced. The cotton producers, the laborers, and the merchants who are dependent for a living on these persons will all suffer, they say.

Now the south either produce and sell surplus cotton to the world or radically reduce its equipment and population. Channels of reciprocal trade with the world must be opened and handicaps on the sale of cotton to the world must be removed, they say.

SO THIS IS THE LAW!

For weeks the law has been defied by John Dillinger, murderer, who escaped from a so-called jail with a wooden gun and since then has been roaming the country. The police of at least four States—Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota—have been made to look silly by this one bandit.

In New York—on the same day that Dillinger eluded police in Wisconsin—a child with a toy hoe scraped up some mud in Central Park, and for this heinous offense the mother and child were forced to spend an entire day in court and in jail. The sun was shining outdoors, but the majesty of the law must be upheld, and so the 2-year-old child was soundly spanked to keep him quiet in the courtroom Justice—if that's what it is called—must not be outraged!

Here is a perfect illustration of why the police and the courts in the United States are held in low public esteem. Politicians, police and judiciary play games of drop-the-handkerchief with bandits, thugs, racketeers and plug-uglies. Then they turn around and persecute women and children who cannot defend themselves. Let it never be said that they quail before a woman or child! They have their duty to perform! If they cannot protect citizens, at least they can harry and annoy them.—Christian Science Monitor.

IT'S PAST TIME TO SEND
SLUDGE, the OIL-EATER, ON HIS WAY!
Continuing to Drive With Winter Oil Costs You Money Daily

● It's high time you changed to a heavier motor oil—as an economy move! Lighter oils are subject to faster and faster consumption as the mercury continues to rise.

Besides, if you have been using ordinary oil the chances are that there is trouble-making sludge in your crankcase right now.

You know how the ugly mess called Sludge fouls the oil filter and lines—makes piston rings stick and causes costly pumping of oil—slows down valve action, bringing wasteful loss of gasoline power.

So get rid of sludge, once and for all, by having your crankcase drained at a Standard Oil station—then refill with Iso-Vis "D", the anti-sludge motor oil. You'll have an economical, sludge-less summer and a clean, lively, efficient engine.

This mountainous road in West Virginia over which pedestrians used to walk in fear of their lives today has become equally famous as a thoroughfare of safety.

YEARS ago, legend has it, miners traversed the road and passed through the rocky cut en route to spend their Saturday nights in the boom town of Keystone. On their return, they were often waylaid by bandits, who so often killed their victims, that the path became known as "Dead Man's Cut."

Last year, however, the road, which links Welch and Bluefield, West Va., became prominently associated with the thought of safety, for it was over this stretch and the highway between Bluefield and Roanoke, Va., that the safest intercity small fleet bus operation in the United States was recorded.

Although the road curves its way in a series of horseshoe loops up and down and around the sides of several mountains of the Alleghanies, the Pocahontas Transportation Co., of Bluefield, covered 555,090 miles over it without accident during the period July 1, 1932 to June 30, 1933, and thereby won the award of the National Safety Council which is made each year to the bus line registering the least percentage of accidents per 100,000 miles.

The company attributes its achievement to the careful manner in which it selects its drivers and to its equipment, particularly the U. S. tires whose traction was such that drivers rarely used chains even when the mountains were covered with snow and ice in midwinter.

THREE TALK IN FAVOR OF STATE BOND ISSUE

Three men, prominent in State activities, spoke in favor of the $10,000,000 proposed bond issue for the remodeling of Missouri penal and eleemosynary institutions at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Railroad Park.

They were Harry S. Truman, presiding judge of the Jackson County Court and State re-employment director, Neal D. Williams, who is in charge of the Veterans' Placement Service, and Martin Lewis, formerly State re-employment director.

Judge Truman also spoke at the weekly Lions Club luncheon.

REV. C. F. TRANSUE

MARRIAGES NOW DON'T WEAR OUT

By Helen Rowland

To almost any normal woman, the whole business of life is love. She may go through the motions of building a career, working in an office or running a tearoom; but only a small portion of her heart is in it. And when love goes blah, she discovers that she is only marking time. But, to a man, love is only the busines of his leisure. And he seldom "sees a dream walking", untli he has locked his office desk.

Another mistake which a woman as an adult, as responsible as marriage, is that of regarding a man as an adut, as responsible as herself. Whereas, few men ever develop emotionally beyond the 12-year-old stage.

Before marriage, a girl is eternally tormenting herself to find out what a man means. But, nine times out of ten, he doesn't mean anything! He calls up the first girl on his telephone list, dances with the girl who happens to be nearest at hand or knows how to ease him to the altar most painlessly

If a bride of 18 or 20 would realize that the husky six-footer beside her who calls her "Baby Doll" and poses as the Book of Knowledge, is only about half her age emotionally, she would take him less seriously, indulge his lighter moods and avoid a honeymoon smash-up

Modern marriage don't wear out—they don't last long enough. But, if you can keep the glamour all through the honeymoon, you can usually keep it for life.
